Wide variety of people make Gabriel Richard work

The best mix is one that includes a wide variety. This is what makes GR great. People come here with different backgrounds but they all have one goal, to educate the leaders of tomorrow to the best of their ability.

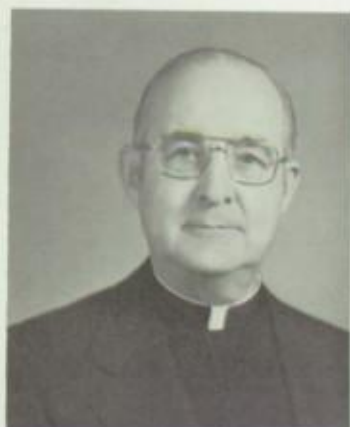

Father Raymond Van Devere serves as principal of GR. His three years here have been enjoyed by all. Fathers' faith and guidance have made him a valuable asset to us. Even with his many duties he still has time to sit down and talk with the students.

Assistant principal Mr. John Bres. His experience as a husband, father, teacher and past years at GR make him a memorable person. He is always willing to lend his time and advice to help make GR even better.

Office personnel, teachers and pastors from six parishes make this mix complete. Their vast knowledge and experience is given to the students in the best possible ways.

Gabriel Richard is now in its twelfth year. It stands as a place where students can receive the high quality education needed today and still maintain a personal contact with the students.

Religious education strives for Christian maturity

The Christian understanding of life is the main objective of the Religious Education department. Self Awareness, Community Awareness, Morality, Man, Mystery, and Myth, and Relationships, along with other courses help students reflect on the Mystery of Life.

New course offerings include "Service in Appalachia" which gave students the opportunity for a "live-in" experience with the poor.

For those who participated, the new course ran for a period of one week in July. The course was counted as a first semester elective.

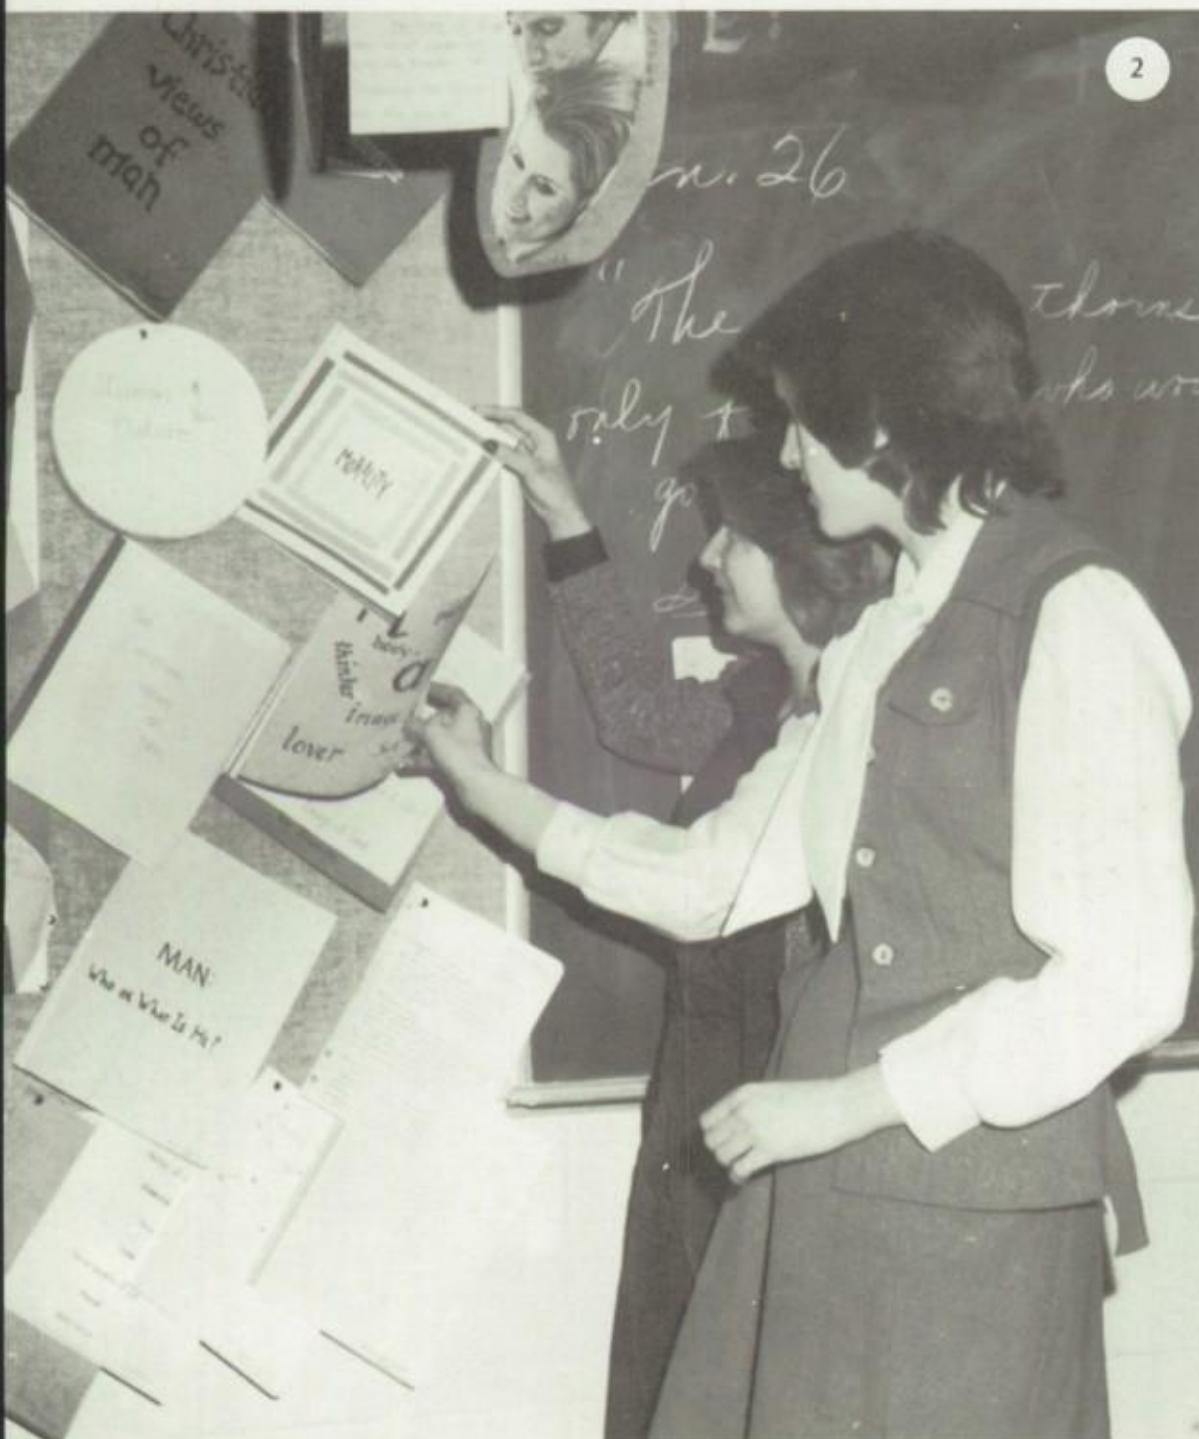

1. Tom and Sandy Hinckle, guest speakers, express their views on marriage to the Relationships classes. 2. Mike Elsessor works hard to complete one of Sr. Joan's tough Morality tests. 3. The Bible class contributes toward the creation of the "Jesse" Tree. 4. Sister Ruth Ann Kelly gives freshmen a chance to express personal feelings about themselves through the Self-Awareness class. 5. Ann York lights the Menorah as the Community Awareness class prepares to celebrate the Passover Meal. 6. Left to Right, Kevin Phillips, Anita Majka, Dawn Souva, Regina Hazey, and Armand Piche, participate in the symbolic observance of the Passover Meal.

1. Denise Decaulewe and Debbie Ruelle help serve the lamb cake at the Passover Meal. 2. Mary Ann Piatt and Linda Manville take a look at the Morality class projects. 3. "I hope I remember all the answers to this Morality test", thinks Wally Cox. 4. Sr. Joan watches observantly as David Koniarz, Ken Bovitz and Dean Carlson attempt to clean out a section of the woods. 5. Along with working, time was provided for enjoying the company of man mountain children. 6. Relaxing in the sun after a hard day's work are: Cathy Jelinski, Karen Koniarz, Dean Carlson, Adelle Costa, Rich York, Linda Tobkin, Ken Bovitz, Kathy Gardella, Frank Weaver, and Karen Dalpiaz. 7. "You deserve a break today," says Father Ray, along with Sisters Marcie, Betty, and Joan as they perform a skit to everyone's enjoyment.

English classes give reading, writing, grammar

Reading, writing, grammar, spelling, vocabulary, literature- that's all part of the Language Arts program here at Richard. The 9th and 10th grade students learn these basics; the 11th and 12th grade classes move into the popular elective program. American Authors, British Writers, Creative Writing, Composition and Research Techniques are some of this year's elective courses.

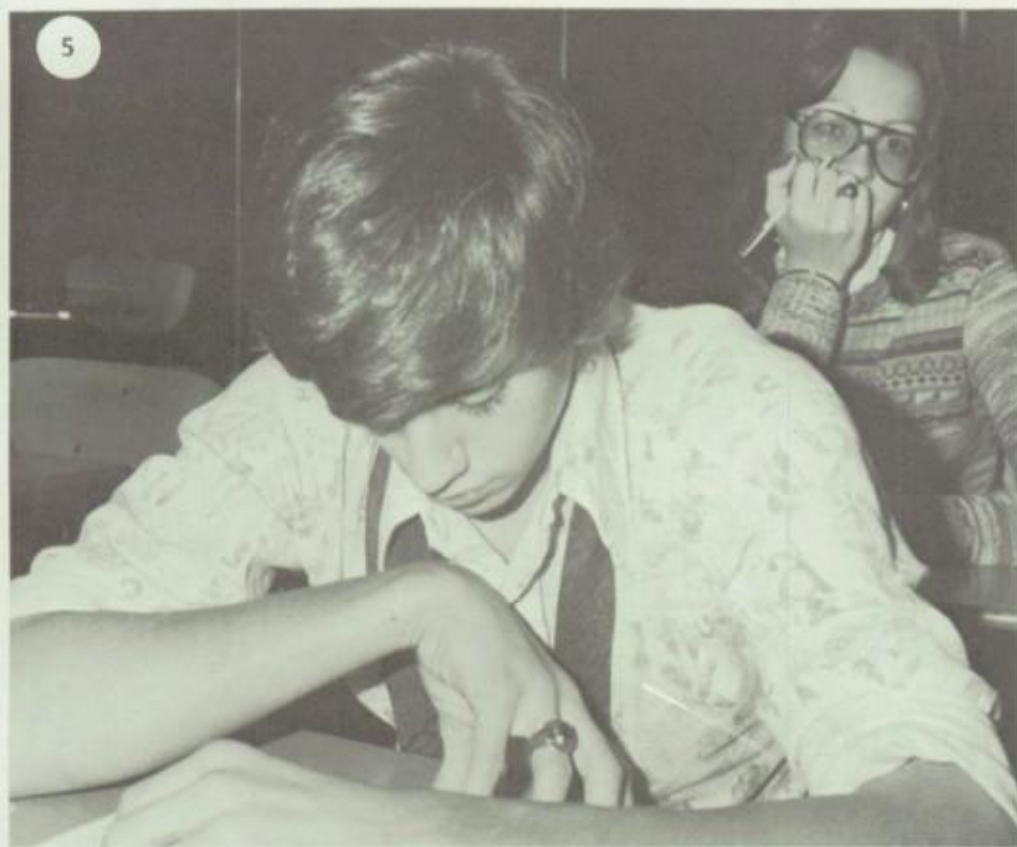

A new course, Mass Media, proves to be a popular class. Students learn all aspects of TV, radio, film, newspapers, cartoons, and magazines. Guest speakers from the advertising world as well as the police profession add their expertise to this course.

Another addition in the curriculum is Individualized Reading Techniques. It combines exercises in speed and comprehension with an opportunity for enrichment reading. This reading program, based on the EDL method, is open to all 10th, 11th and 12th grade students. 9th graders too, participate in a similar reading course.

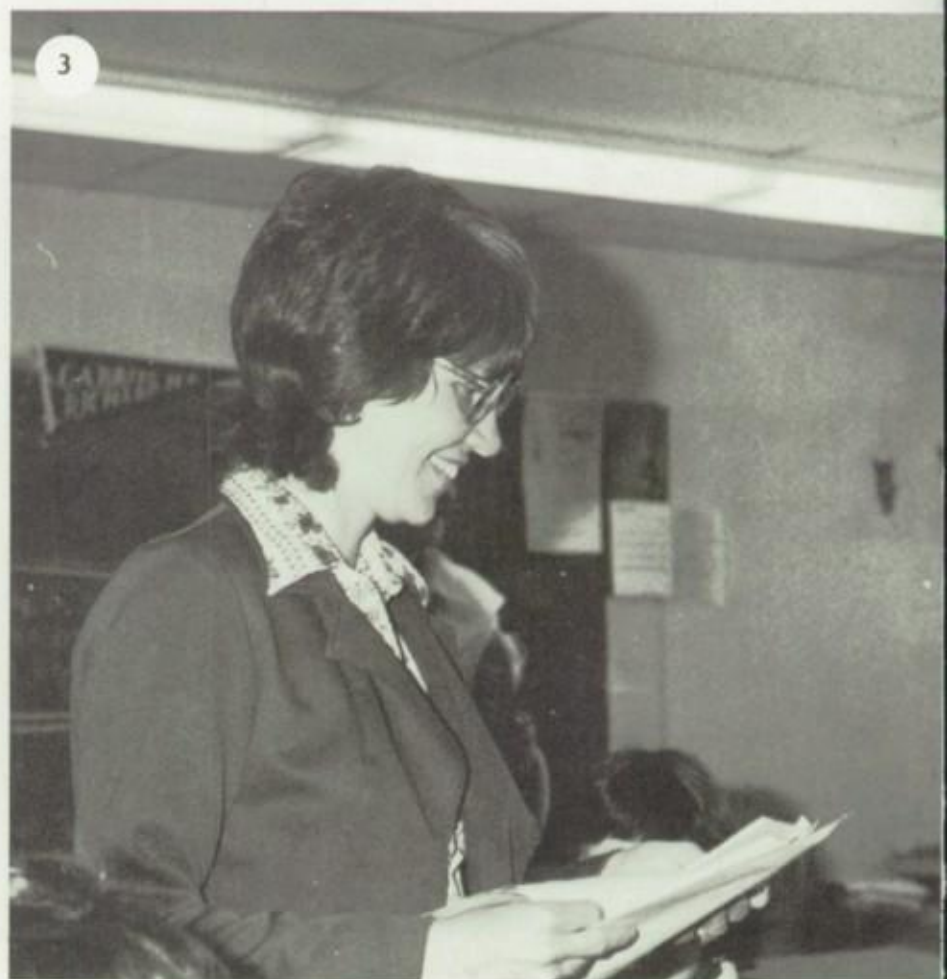

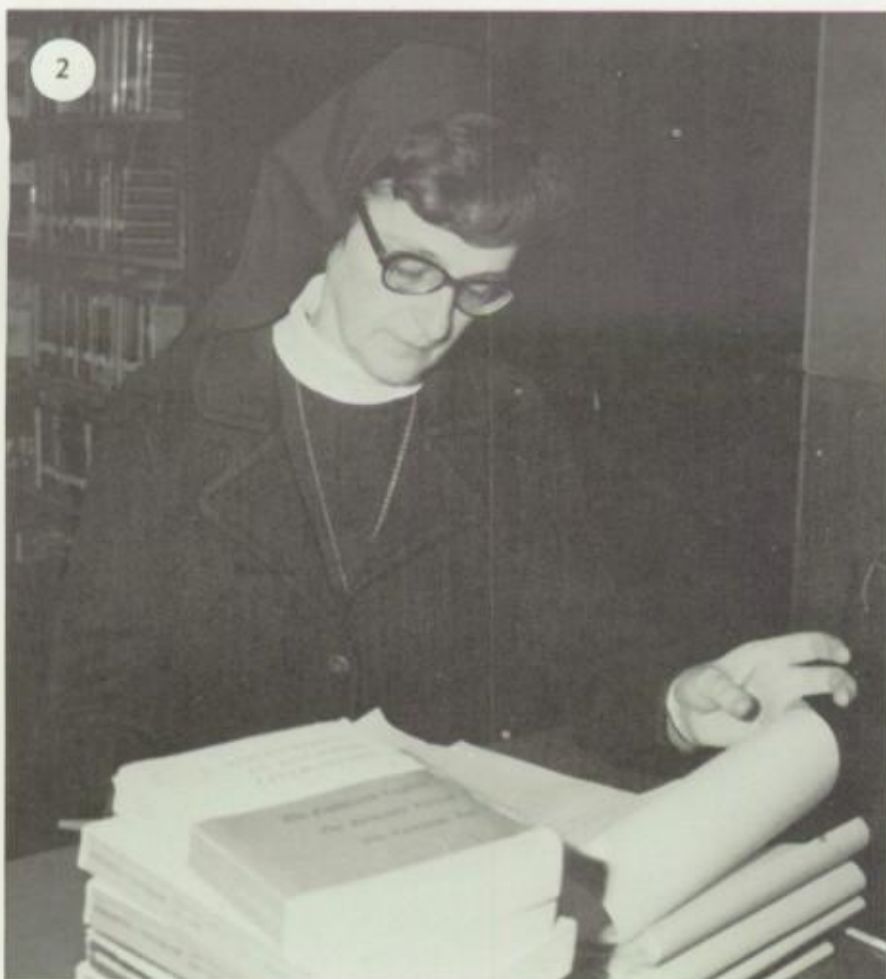

1. Bob Lemanski is totally absorbed with his composition 2. Sister Pat Simpson forever correcting papers. 3. "Get a load of this greaser," says Angela Wing to Joe Knapp on 50's day. 4. Lisa Blanz and Michele Vermey give the history of music. 5. Eric Petit carefully studies his vocabulary 5. Ken Bovitz obviously enjoys his English class.

Language Arts promotes popular media study

1. Students of the Mass Media class listen attentively while they look over their brand new text books. 2. Sister Pauline makes use of Richards fine library. 3. Mrs. Doede (a new addition to the staff) happily returns yesterdays' compositions. 4. Jean Ann Nestor and Colleen Donahue seem sincerely interested in their novels, doing all the required work, but John Daly seems to be dozing off. 5. Mrs. Charlene Rzeppa is always willing to lend a hand. Here she helps senior Tinna Krasun. 6. "It's the REEL thing." The film industry is just one of the interesting facets of Mass Media that is being studied.

Appealing classes attract interested students

The world of Social Studies offers students a wide variety of courses to pursue. History, Government, Regional Studies and many other classes find students choosing those which appeal to them.

Filmstrips, book reports, and speakers highlighted the years' activities. The introduction of Child Development to the social studies curriculum proved to be very popular among the students.

Tim Nestor says; "This is the way you feed a child" 5. Carl Schoemer, Tim Melody, and Tom Danz study the globe. 6. "I think I know the answer," volunteers Jim Peck.

Social Study students inspect world problems

1. Sr. Joelyn and Jim McWilliams discuss the book "The Jungle". 2. Karen Lemanski, Lenor Foggia, and Sherry Bosta check the globe to find where the different countries are. 3. Lisa Garton finds some reading fulfilling. 4. Jannisse Miller learns the proper care of children. 5. Kathy Mech, Bob Herzog, give a report on Africa. 6. Keith Brockway always can find something funny in his studies.

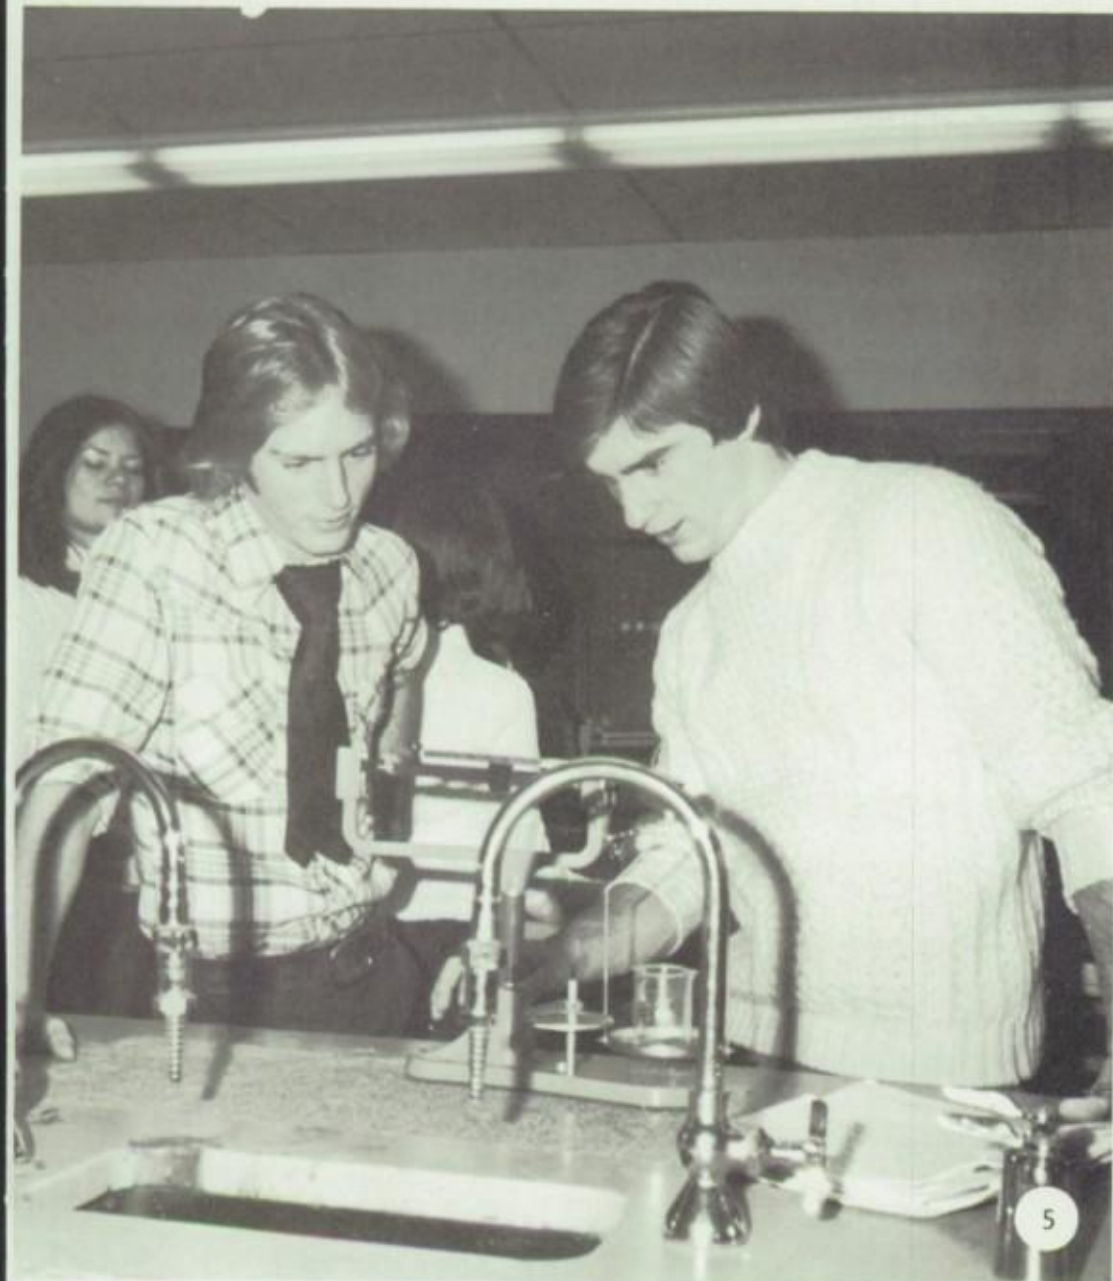

Fundamentals of life sciences interest students

Because science is such an exciting and ever changing subject, Gabriel Richard's science curriculum offers a wide range of studies to stimulate the scientists of tomorrow. Courses such as Chemistry, Physics, Botany, Health, Geology, Astronomy and Biology keep Richard students at work.

Through each course students are challenged to plunge into the great unknowns of the universe, or to examine the great detail and beauty of a flower or leaf. They study too, the geological makeup of their own hometown and the intricate workings of the human body.

Sister Mary Jo Rosenau as department head keeps updating these course offerings. She is aided by Miss Aldona Petrauskas, Mr. Frank Briggs, Sister Constance Studer and Mr. Michael Weatherhead.

Using a telescope is most essential in dealing with Astronomy. 7. A newcomer to the staff and an excellent teacher: Miss Aldona Petrauskas.

Math helps eager students get to the root of problems

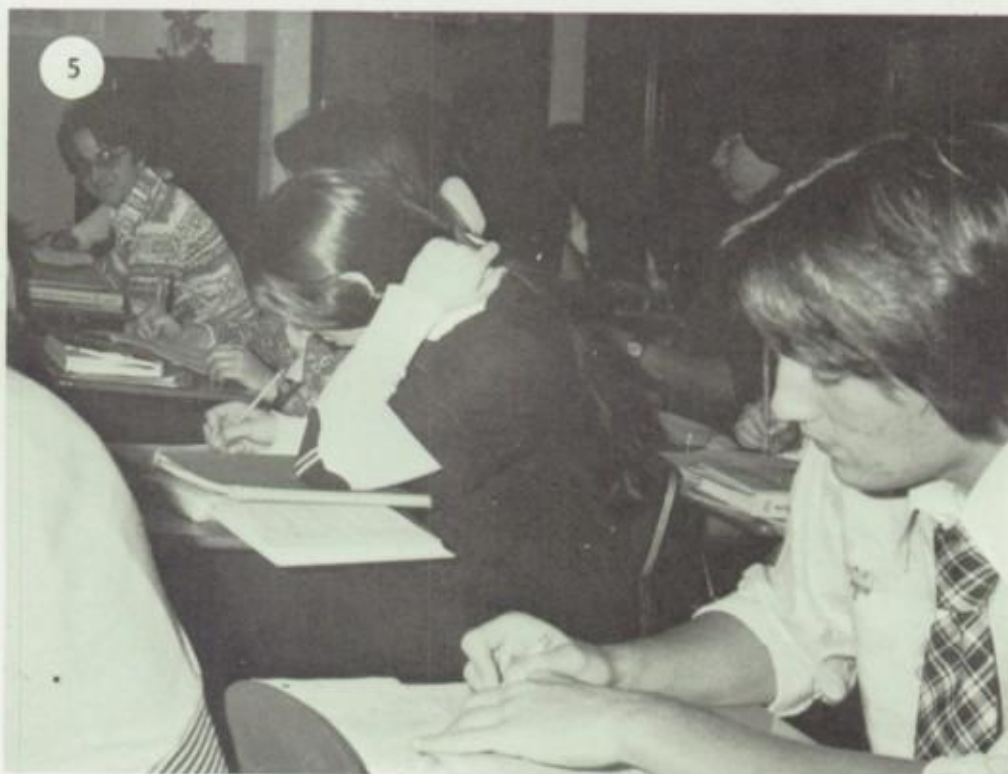

The mathematics department at Gabriel Richard offers opportunities to students to develop to their utmost potential while at the same time respecting the differences of the individual.

This year we were happy and proud to have Senior, Mark Poulton, place in the top 1000 student in Michigan in the Michigan Math Competition — a first here at G.R.

Also this year, Junior, Barry Harbison, obtained a 6 week scholarship for a summer at Lawrence Institute of Technology studying digital computers and physics — an exceptional opportunity for growth in math and science.

Ken Bovitz dictates to Colleen Coogan how to solve this particular equation. 5. Jim Dunn looks to his peers Janice Miller and Larry Zuk to see if they know how to do the problem

Languages aren't foreign at G.R.

"Que Pasa?" What's happening in the Gabriel Richard Language Department- "Mucho"! Both classes and clubs always have something cooking. The Latin Club Banquet, the Polish Club Dinner, the Spanish Fiesta, and the Le Diner of the French Club are a few of the year's activities.

Four year programs are offered in Spanish, French and Latin. Polish, another language offering, is now expanded to a two year program.

Each year GR is "home" to a foreign exchange student. This year, Miss Maria Muller from Chile shares her customs from her homeland and learns American ways.

Under the leadership of club presidents Karen Koniarz (Spanish), Jose Valdez (Latin), John Cisko (French), and Val Watson (Polish), the Language Department continues to be involved in both cultural and service-oriented activities.

1. "Muy Guapo, Eh?" says Maria Mueller our student from Chile. 2. This happy couple, Barbara Couls, Armand Piche and their wedding party: Bob Stefanko, Michelle Dallos, Colleen Melody, Beth Konopka, Cindy Fletcher, Denise Decaluwe, and Sheila Murphy celebrate in French class. 3. Bill Truskowski serves Sister Juliana while Don Krogels enjoys every bite of his doughnut. 4. Scott Sutherby drinks up at the Polish dinner. 5. "Holay!" shouts Larry Walker. 6. Debbie Corbin receives Communion from Father Ray at the French Mass.

Music Department displays individual talents

More students and more activities mark real growth in the Music Department. Students gain experience in singing and performing in a group. The Spring Concert is the highlight of the class activities. Other involvement includes singing for the Senior Citizens, persons in nursing homes, and, at school, entertaining GR students at Thanksgiving and at Christmas.

Expansion is the key word for the instrumental part of the Music Department. Introduction to Instruments is the title of a new course. Students learn to read notes and rhythm, fingering and tone. They play both solo and in a group. All students in this class join other band members for all school musical events.

Creative students found in GR Art curriculum

Our Art Department offers a varied program for students pursuing art careers as well as those interested in its many courses. This year's curriculum includes semester courses in oil painting, advanced drawing, jewelry making, ceramics, and others.

Sister Grace Dennis, head of the department guides the students in the use of special techniques and also involves the students in a variety of art shows and service-oriented activities.

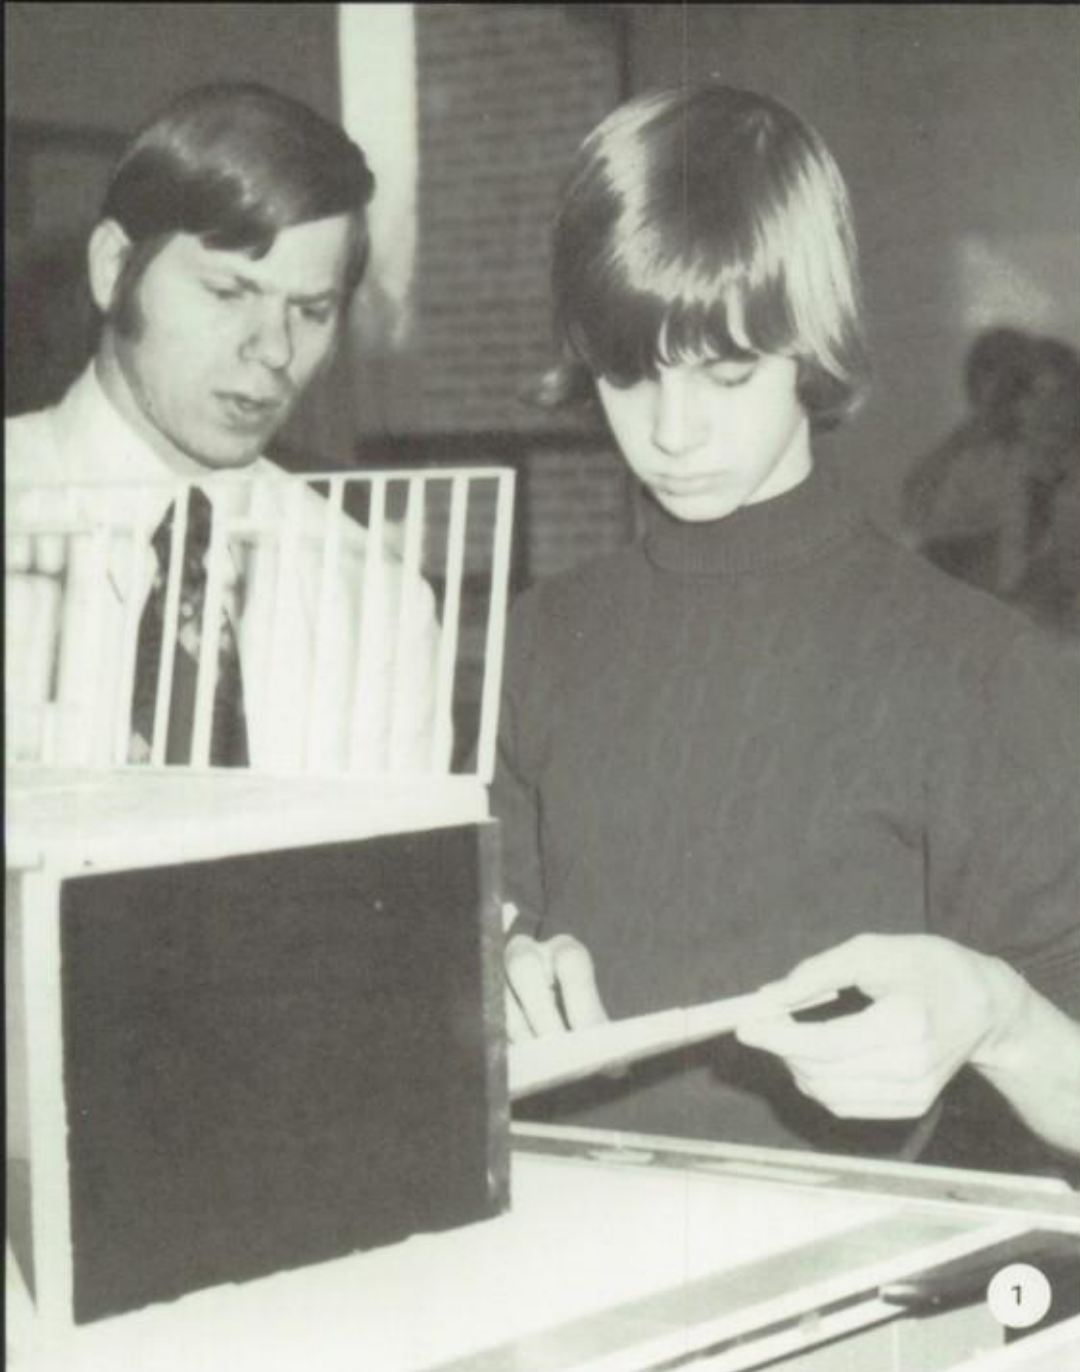

Corridor window displays and the annual art show in the Spring give all GR students a taste of the creativity of our art students.

1. Philomena Meechan works hard on her painting. 2. Anne Gleason uses oils expertly. 3. Val Valor molds another piece of pottery. 4. Pat Bruske, Anne Schrecker, Jamie Leonard, and Mark Karaba display their certificates from Art Shows. 5. Ralph Matthews wonders what to do next. 6. Marie LeBar sets her model. 7. Don Renaud works with magazine pictures. 8. Laurie Di Maria concentrates on her drawing. 9. Dave Koniarz and Kevin McGrath examine this remarkable vase.

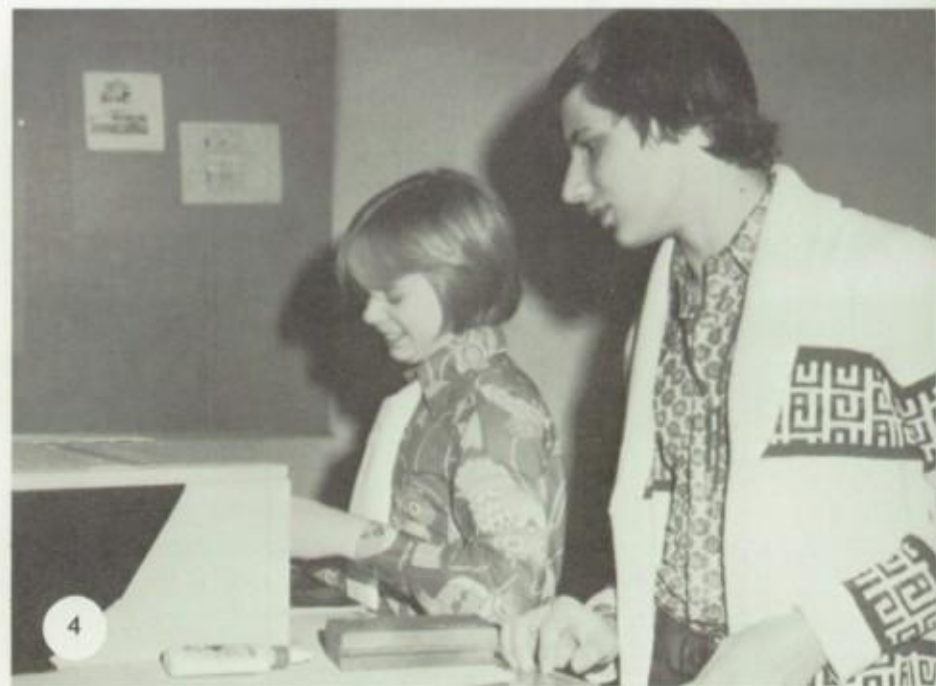

Students prove talents through Industrial Arts

GR's drafting department gives women as well as men, a better understanding of the development of the graphic language of mechanical drawing, Engineering drawing, and Architectural drafting. The students work independently with the assistance of Mr. Ziemba.

Mr. Don Ziemba
Industrial Arts

1. Mr. Ziemba assists Kevin Chinavare with the basics of building.
2. Mark Gronowski demonstrates the need for concentration for drafting 3-4. 3. Drafting student Donny Renaud finds the course a challenge. 4. Rick Gasky and Steve Barnowsky work together to complete their skill model of their house.

Home Economics provides useful experiences

Gretchen finds concentration to be a very big part in sewing. 2. Sophomore girls work hard to complete their required sewing projects. 3. "No, no, no!" exclaims Robin Stanco to her cooking partners. "You have to sift the flour first!" 4. "One teaspoon vanilla" says Marg to Mary.

The Home Ec department offers students the chance to explore the world of making their own clothes, preparing a meal, and in the new course Costume Design, to make their own patterns. You may not walk out of the class a gourmet cook or a seamstress, but you will have had an experience.

Sister Betty Clor,

GR students are never short handed in Taking notes and transcribing letters are among the many finger-tiring tasks one encounters in the Shorthand class. Sr. Frances Louise instructs the course.

Other business courses include Accounting, which teaches students the bookkeeping and recording end of business and Business Machines which teaches students how to operate the many machines used in the Business World. For the Mathematical part of business there is Business Math. Last but not least Business Law which handles the legal end of Business.

With all these courses in Business Education, GR has the whole field covered. These business courses give students the much needed experience on what the real business world is like.

1. Members of the typing class try their best at speed typing. 2. Corky Swint, Tim Thomas, Mary Van Owen, Bruce Payette and Dave Labadie concentrate on accounting. 3. George and Dan do the assigned work. 4. Joe Kline studies his book. 5. Colleen Darcy rests.

Gabriel Richard has a good physical education program offering both a varied and enjoyable program for all class levels.

All Freshmen are required to take two full semesters of gym. Their activities range from gymnastics and basketball in the Fall to an introduction to track and field events in the Spring.

Sophs can choose a gym class for either the first semester, gymnastics or team sports the second.

Juniors and Seniors are offered a leisure time class in which they play tennis, golf, bowling, badminton and many other activities. The gymnastics class and team sports classes are also open to them.

Our physical education department heads, Miss Darlene Covell and Mr. Jim Bigham continue to develop and evaluate this program thus assuring its success.

Miss Darlene Covell

1. John Hughes displays winning form 2. Liz Westberry shows how she takes part. 3. Kathy Gasky and Val Watson take a break 4. Matt Krogol: "It's all in the wrist." 5. Freshman train in track and field. 6. Kevin McElroy waits for the birdie. 7. Jeff Sarnacki returns the smash. 8. The trampoline-part of the program in gymnastics- is always in great demand.

The library welcomes all GR students daily

The library is available as a resource center throughout the school day. The GR community is welcome to study, read, and research on their own time, and faculty members schedule their classes for group visits often. Books, periodicals, and audio-visual materials are selected and circulated to support the interest of the community.

For the first time at GR the library offered students a class on how to use a movie camera, and make their own animated films. They also learned to use the 35 mm camera, and developed their own negatives.

Parent volunteers and students aides cooperated to serve the library users.

1. Elaine Dimston finds the periodical section in the library very helpful. 2. "Sr. Virginia, slow down, you are confusing me!" exclaims Mrs. Kish. 3. Sister Virginia takes time from her busy schedule to assist Mrs. Dalpiaz, a volunteer worker for the library. 4. "Are you sure this is you?" asks Mrs. McDomough to Jamie Muto, while Catol Merrit searches for her I.D. "You must have your Gabriel Richard I.D. to enter the library!"

Counselors give all they have to GR community

At Gabriel Richard, the Guidance Department is concerned with making a meaningful experience for each student. Every effort is made to form a good student-counselor relationship in which a student has the freedom to express his ideas and feelings. Direction and guidance is also given to students for course selections according to their abilities and for their future needs.

For the first semester, Brian Murphy, Youth Minister at Saint Cyprians, offered his services to the GR Community.

1. Sister Rita diligently tries to help freshman Denise Decaluive with important college information. 2. Marie Boutain is thoroughly excited over next years courses. 3. "Oh I get it now" says Sister Christine to herself after attempting to interpret the joke told to her ten minutes ago. 4. Discussing next year's schedule is an important and interesting time for sophomore Jeff Thomas and Sister Rita. They even find time for a few laughs in between.

Office and Maintenance staffs provide efficiency

Without the efforts of an efficient office and maintenance department GR would not run as smoothly as it does. Mrs. Rita Fumich, secretary and receptionist, makes sure all her duties are done with great care. Mrs. Filomena Reed, GR's bookkeeper, is precise in her job managing the business areas of the school office. Mrs. Julia Toth also offers her capable assistance throughout the school day. GR's excellent physical appearance is due to the highly qualified efforts of Mrs. Walter Gondek and Mrs. Juanita Schultz. All these hard working individuals help make GR run systematically.

1. Answering the phone is only part of Mrs. Fumich's many duties. 2. Mr. Gondek and Mrs. Schultz discuss the problem of today's workload. 3. Mrs. Reed gets ready for a day of work.

ACCENT ON PEOPLE

Seniors share quiet and exciting times together

Dave Labadie
President

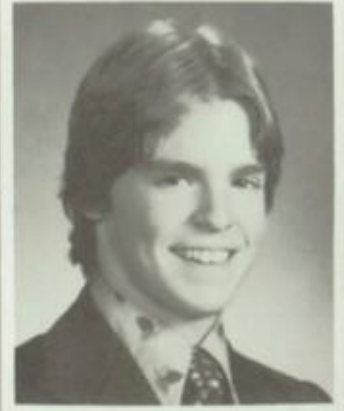

Ask anyone. If there were four years filled with spirit, leadership, and closeness, then unquestionably these, the last, are much more meaningful than the other three.

Throughout these years, we've seen a great change day after day, new friends became closer and old friends grew in a sharing experience. The memories we have are not only happy ones . . . there have been anxious days filled with thoughts of the future.

The class of '77 managed to be on top of, under, and around everything that happened. We've come a long way since Richard week of '73 when the float of Atom Ant took 4th place, or when we "computed a victory" sophomore year and claimed second place. Working hard Junior year in our own unique way, we claimed third place in float competition with the saying; "G.R. Declares a Victory."

With boundless enthusiasm and a tower of spirit, ready to let go their last year, the class of '77 settled for nothing less than the top. The saying; "The Ravens are cheep, cheep," proved to be true as not only did the float take first place, the Pioneers beat Benedictine 14 to 7.

The last weeks in May were full of uncertainty as the day of graduation approached. "Thank-You to Parents" night was a way we showed our appreciation to our parents for the support and guidance they gave us for 12 years. Upon reaching that long-awaited day, the class of '77 left Richard with many happy memories.

For the first time in Student Council history the senior class, the class of '77, occupied the most seats than ever before. It has been great; all the cooperation and involvement the senior class has shown throughout the year. Without them the Student Council could never have been as much fun or fulfilling as it was.

The seats they filled were: four of the six on the Executive Board; President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Entertainer Coordinator; the four class officers; and the French, Health, NHS, Drama, C.O.R.E., Men's Varsity Club, Richardian, Cheerleading, Yearbook, Women's Varsity Club, Latin and Spanish Club Presidents.

The Seniors shown here played a large part in organizing many school activities such as retreats, elections, Mission Carnival, Pep Rallies, dances, soc-hops, sleigh rides, pep buses and much more. The entire Student Body enjoyed a memorable year because of the efforts of these seniors! By keeping their class well informed and by working side by side with the faculty and administration at Richard these students were able to complete a fine year.

Seniors looking at their final year and future

At last the long awaited day for seniors arrives

1. Anxiety is clearly shown on the faces of the Seniors as they march into church. 2. Doug Ochmanek and Sr. Judy head the class. 3. Next, with the candles, are Linda Asciutto, Cathy Jelinski and Cindy Muzzin. 4-5. Kevin M., Pete L., Beth T., and Dave L., help with the gifts. 6. Pat Laura contributes by playing flute. 7. Gail Tackett reads for the mass.

1. Seniors patiently await communion. 2. An overall view of the goings-on. 3. Mary Neubecker receives the Eucharist. 4. "Ha-ha, told you I'd make it." smiles Pete Germuska. 5. "No kidding- me too," agrees Chris Kaul 6. Finally; relief and happiness are the only words to describe the people amidst this sea of caps.

Senior rejoice as they complete ceremonies

Juniors bring in many stunning performances

Once again the enthusiastic and energetic Juniors showed their spirit throughout the 1976-77 school year.

Displaying creative talents, the Juniors, came away with a second place ribbon in both the float competition and the Richard Relays. Their first place activities were accomplished during Spirit Week as they won the bulletin board and Spirit Skit competition.

Although these were of much importance, other activities were sponsored by, and involved the responsibility of the entire Junior Class. These were Ring Ceremony, The Dance Marathon, The 50's Dance, and the Junior and Senior Prom.

In accepting their rings as a symbol of class unity and shared fellowship, the Junior class once again branched out exhibiting their individuality. The day began as solemn pledges were spoken over the tomb of Fr. Gabriel Richard, at St. Annes Church in Detroit and the festivities continued with a brunch and a day filled with various activities.

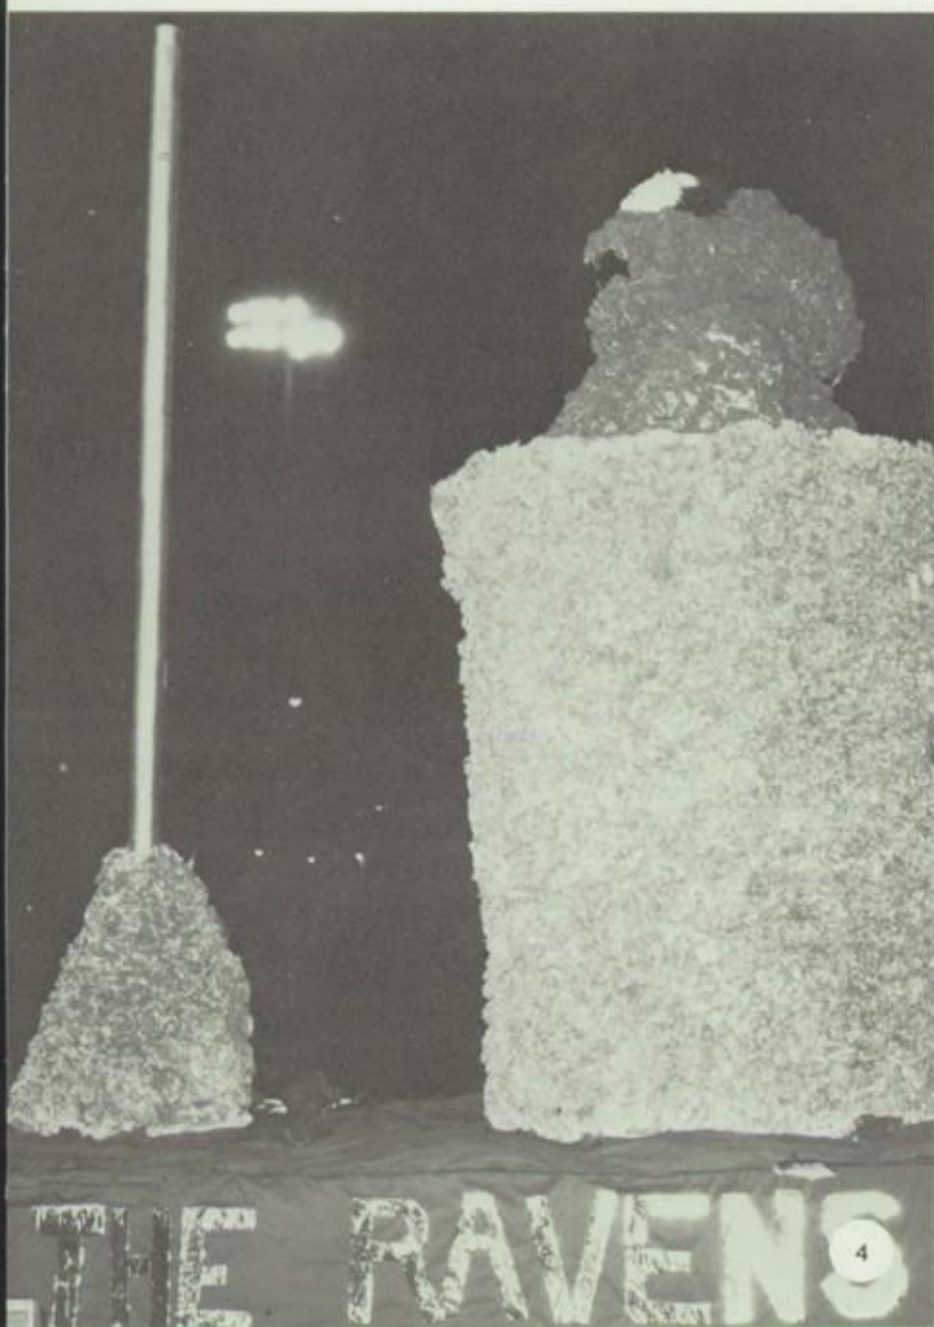

Many tired feet emerged victoriously as the Junior sponsored Dance Marathon came to a close. Once again school unity was exhibited as the Richard Community, through the aid of its dancing demons, surpassed its goal of $1,000 for the Mission Carnival.

When 50's day rolled into Richard this year its students were ready with leathers and bobby socks. They boogied to the music of "Moose and the Sharks" as the dance proved successful for the Junior Class.

April 29 will long be remembered by the faculty and students as the evening of the Junior-Senior Prom.

As the Junior Class moves forward, looking behind at its past and peering forward to its future accomplishments, expectations of a bright tomorrow await.

Sophomore spirit generates throughout Richard

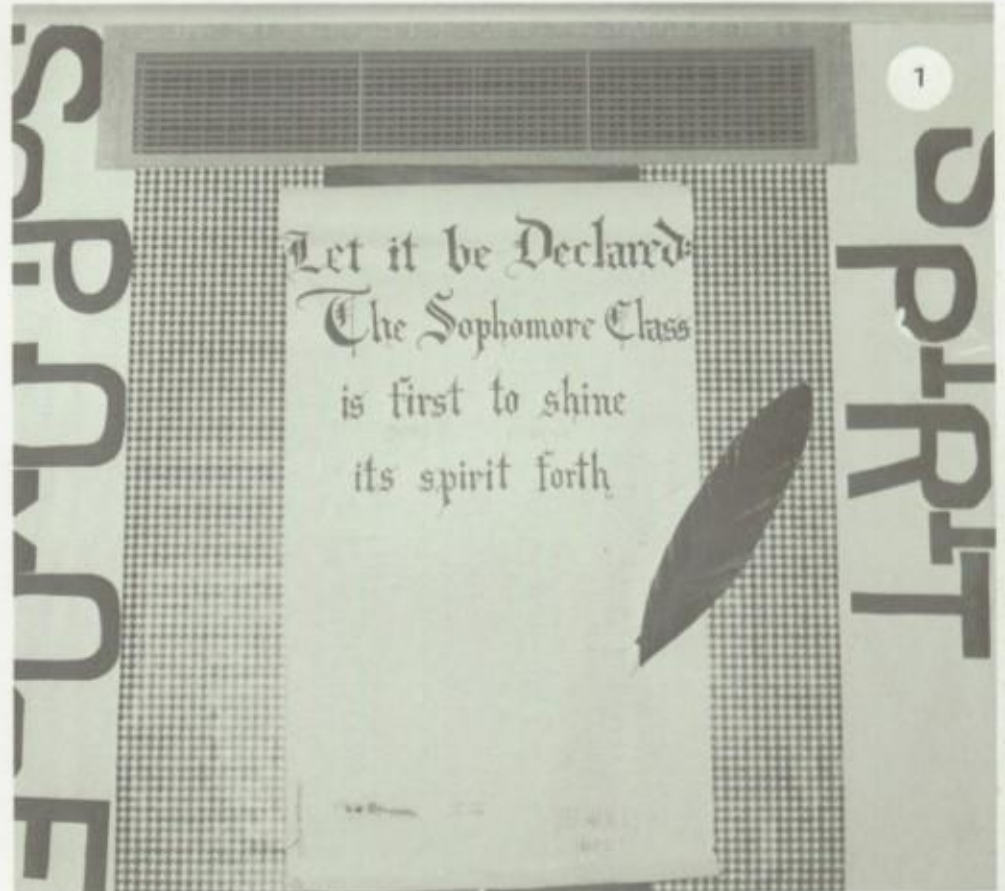

The unique spirit of the Sophomore class is expressed in every activity they participate in, Especially at pep rallies where they have won spirit ribbons for there enthusiasm at GR.

Through the year the Sophomore officers prove there leadership and eagerness to help their class by their interest in the class' activities.

At the missions carnival the Sophomores donated approximately forty-five dollars by selling slaves which gave the Richard students a day of rest and fun throughout spirit week.

During spirit week the Sophomores bulletin board took an unfortunate fourth place. The Marx Brothers skit brought the Sophomores a roaring second place.

As the year goes by the Sophomores will learn to assume the qualities of a spirited upperclassman.

1. Sophomores design their bulletin board for spirit theme.

Freshmen enthusiasm joins spirit of Richard

Eagerness and willingness is expressed by the Freshmen Class of 1980, Richard's largest class.

Despite the disadvantages of being a larger group, the class of 1980 is energetic when it comes to participation in the Richard community. They have the opportunity to take part in sports, join clubs and bring forth new ideas to the Student Council when running for a class office. With their minds full of awareness and eyes open to discover new responsibilities and new adventures, when involved in such activities.

Much time and effort was spent during Homecoming, where endless hours were used to complete their float "Grover", which came in 3rd. Activities were also planned for the Mission Carnival and "Spirit Week".

Excitement comes about when the Freshmen are ready to cheer and show their devotion to Richard at the pep-rallies ... where Freshmen enthusiasm adds much "Spirit to Richard!"

ACCENT ON ACTIVITIES

Richard Week: spirited activities, fun for all

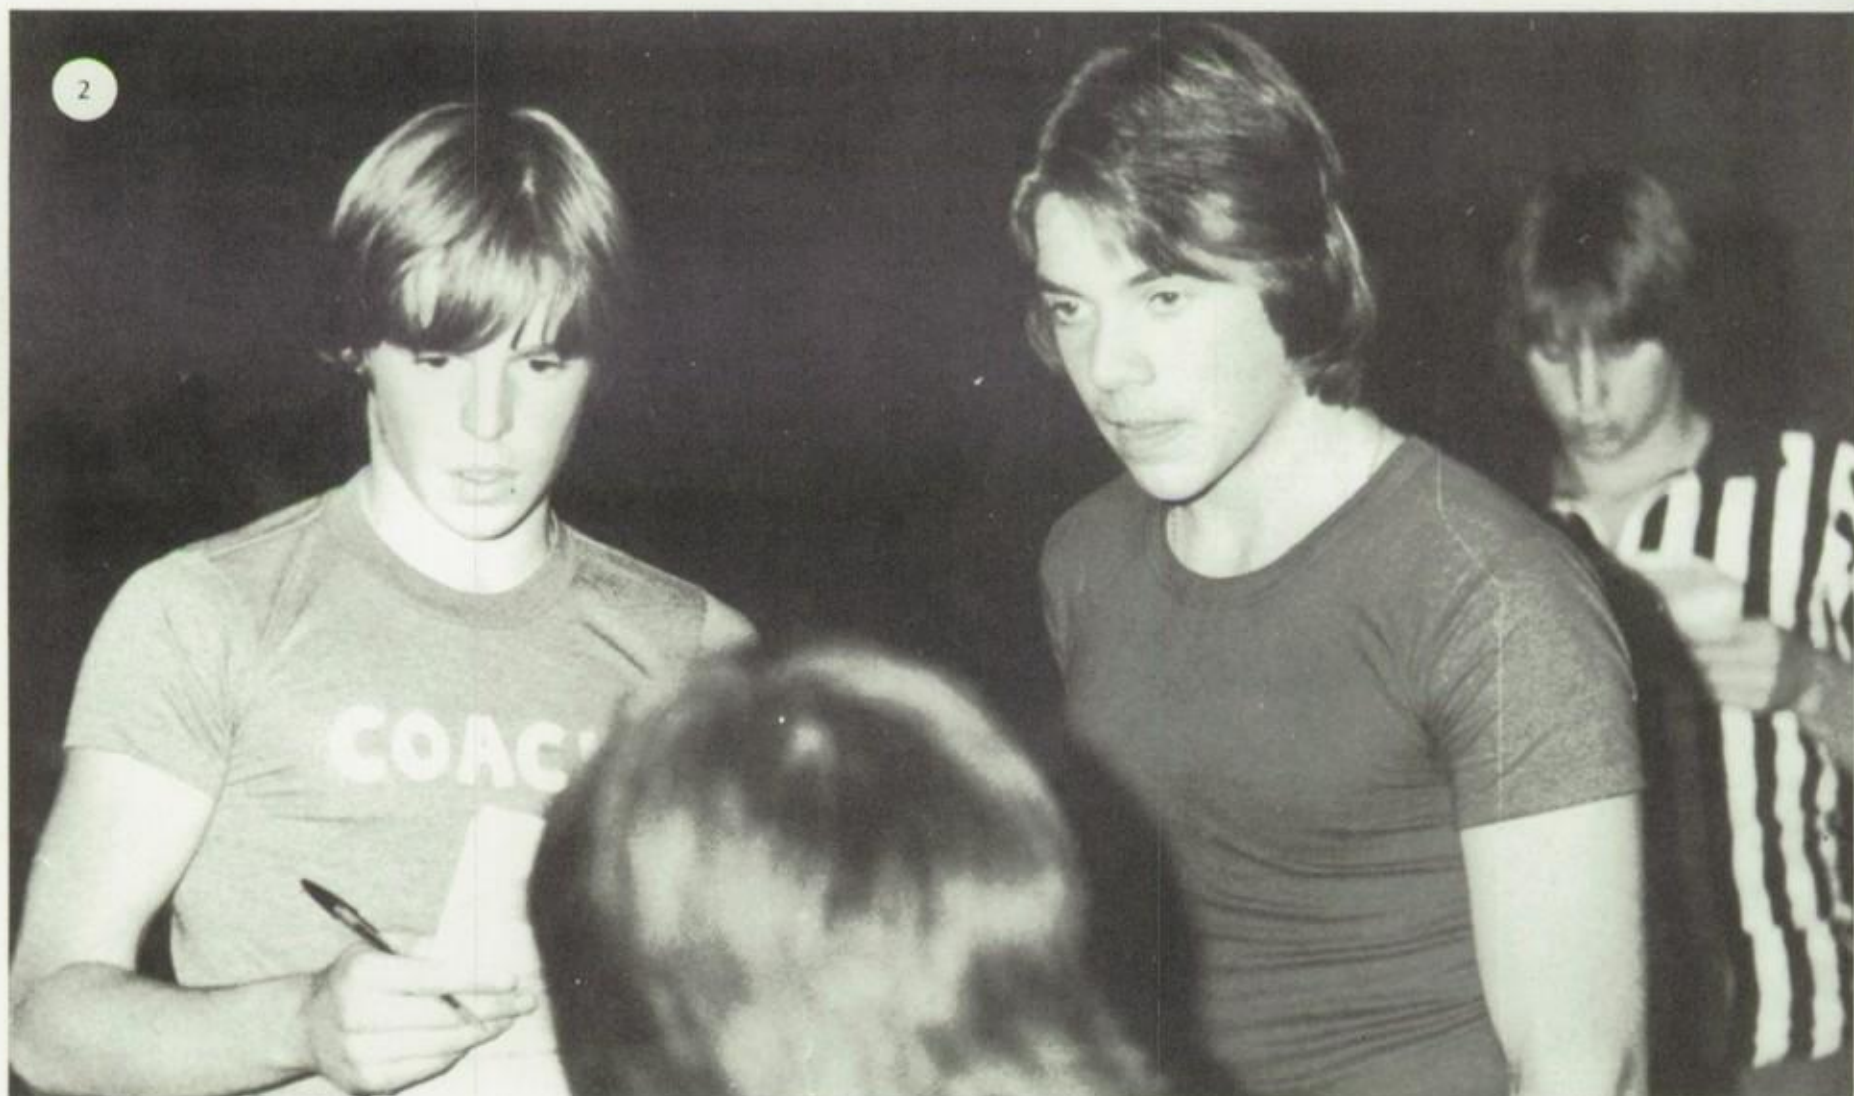

Richard Week this year was filled with fantastic spirit and memories for everyone.

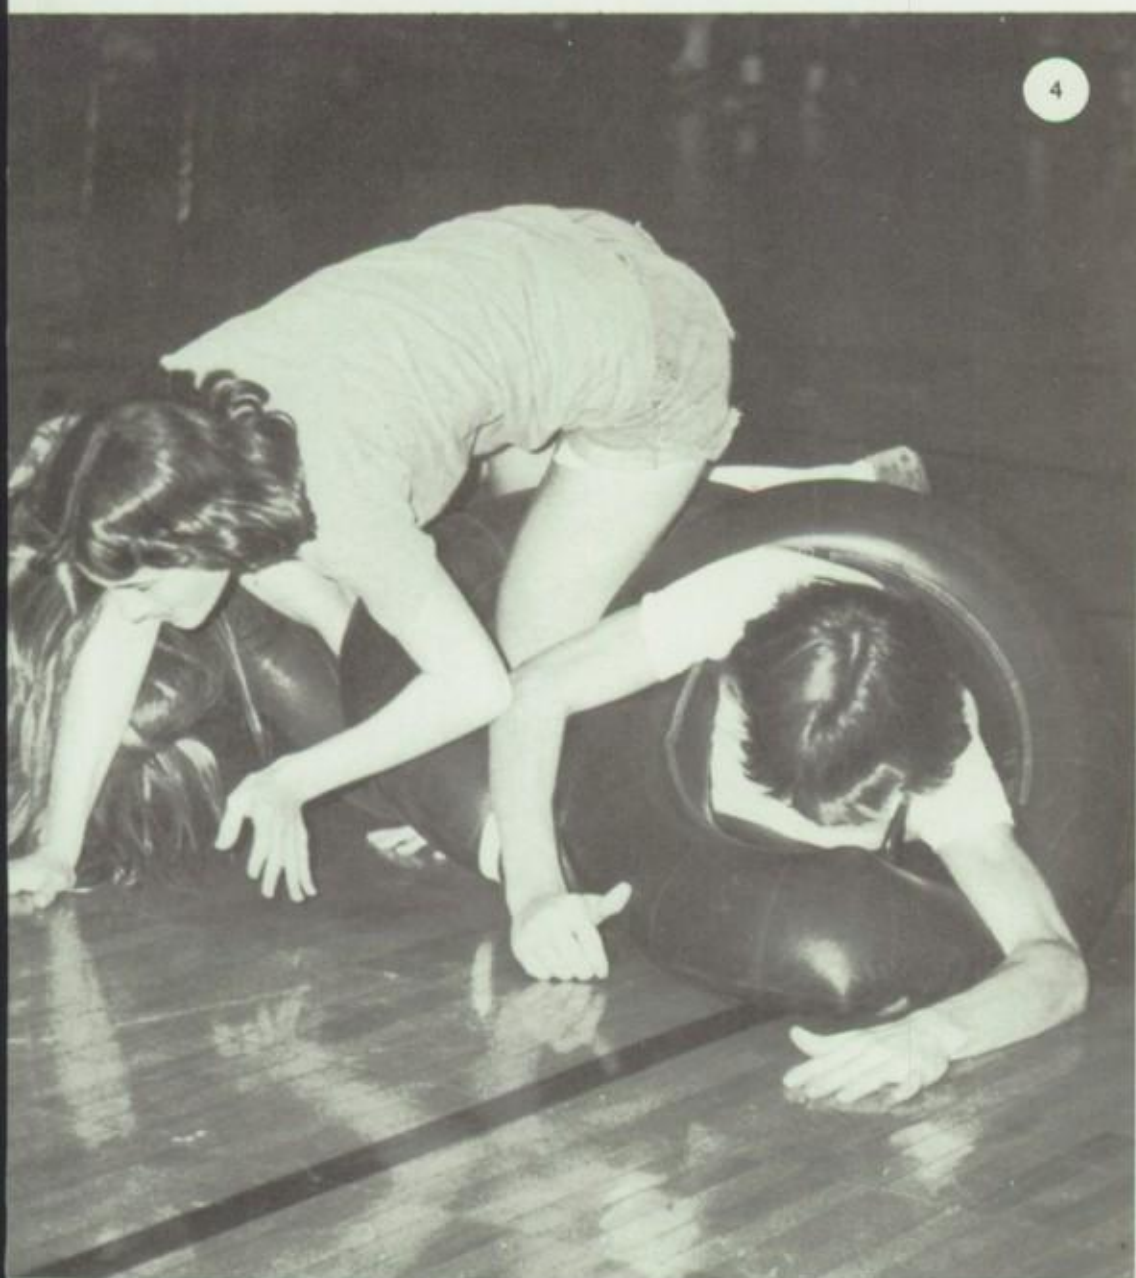

Each day was set aside as a special day for every class. As usual, Wednesday was taken by the Juniors. This year they decided to go to St. Anne's Cathedral in Detroit and have their ring blessing ceremony at the site of Fr. Gabriel Richards' tomb. They then proceeded to St. Elizabeth's where a few Junior mothers had prepared a breakfast for them. After that some went bowling and some stayed at St. Elizabeth's for dancing.

Thursday the second annual Richard Relays were held. The Seniors came out on top winning with the score of seventy-seven. The Varsity club sponsored event gave rise to much spirit and class competition.

Friday a special pep rally was held honoring the homecoming court and the upcoming game. The Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleaders did a brilliant flashlight routine to the Senior class song, "To Each His Own" by America.

Our mighty Pioneer football team brought home a victory Friday night to bring Richard Week to a beautiful close.

1. Joe Cosman, Jamie Leonard and Scott Sutherby take part in a skit at a Richard Week pep rally. 2. "Coach" Kevin McGrath, checks his strategy with Pete Lagenhorst and Dave Labadie as referee Jay Sarnacki calls out the next event. 3. Father Ray blesses Sandy Gasky's class ring as Sue DiCosmo, Kathy Breslin, Michelle Dallos and others look on. 4. Sophomores Jeanne Gervasi and John Kernan take part in the human log roll. 5. Linda Manville, Joanie Thoma and Sue DiCosmo put together the symbolic banner used at the Junior Ring Ceremony.

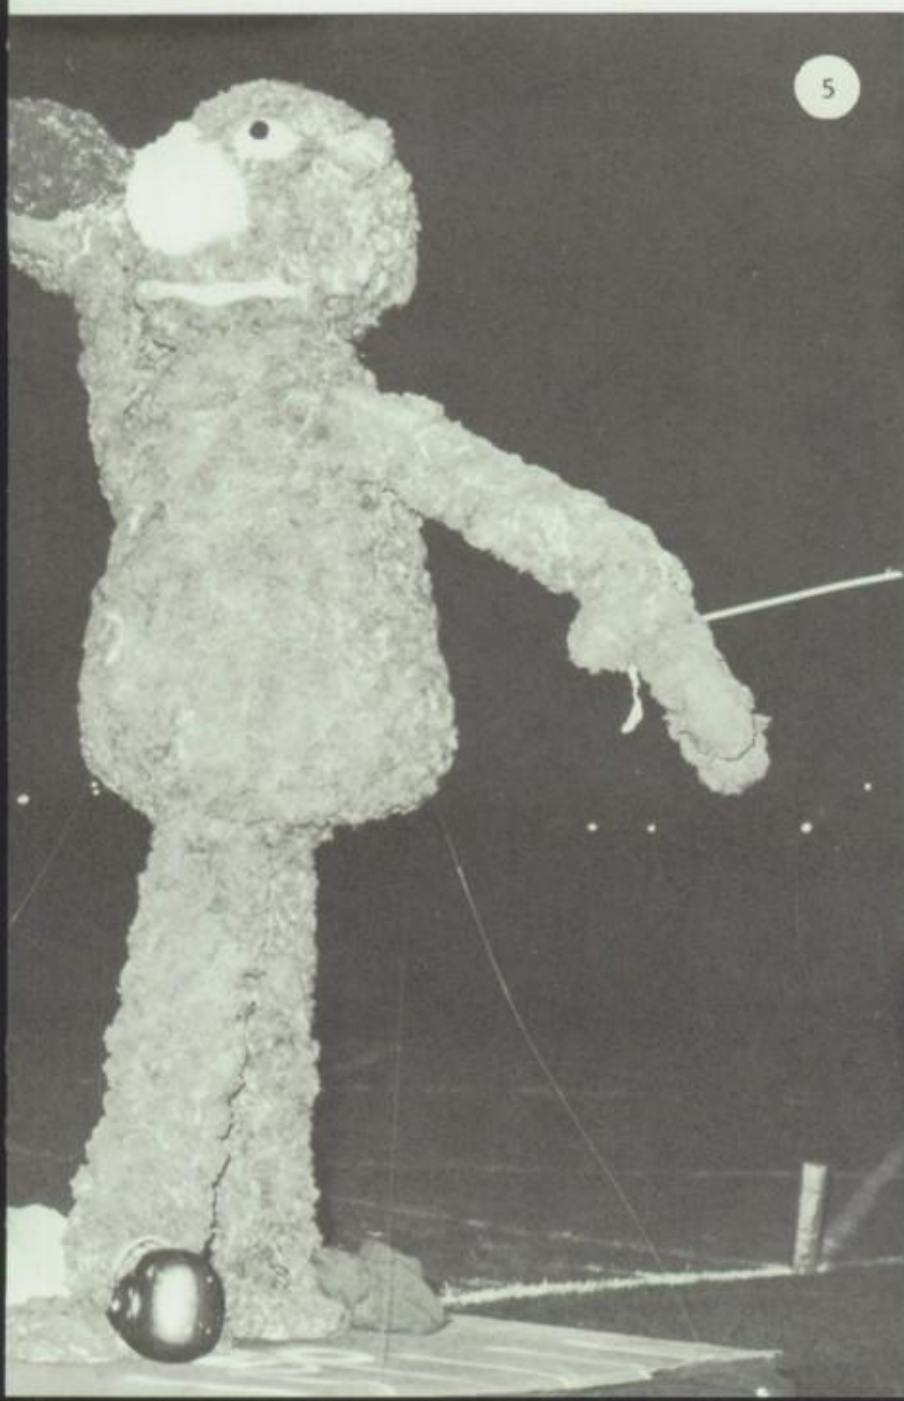

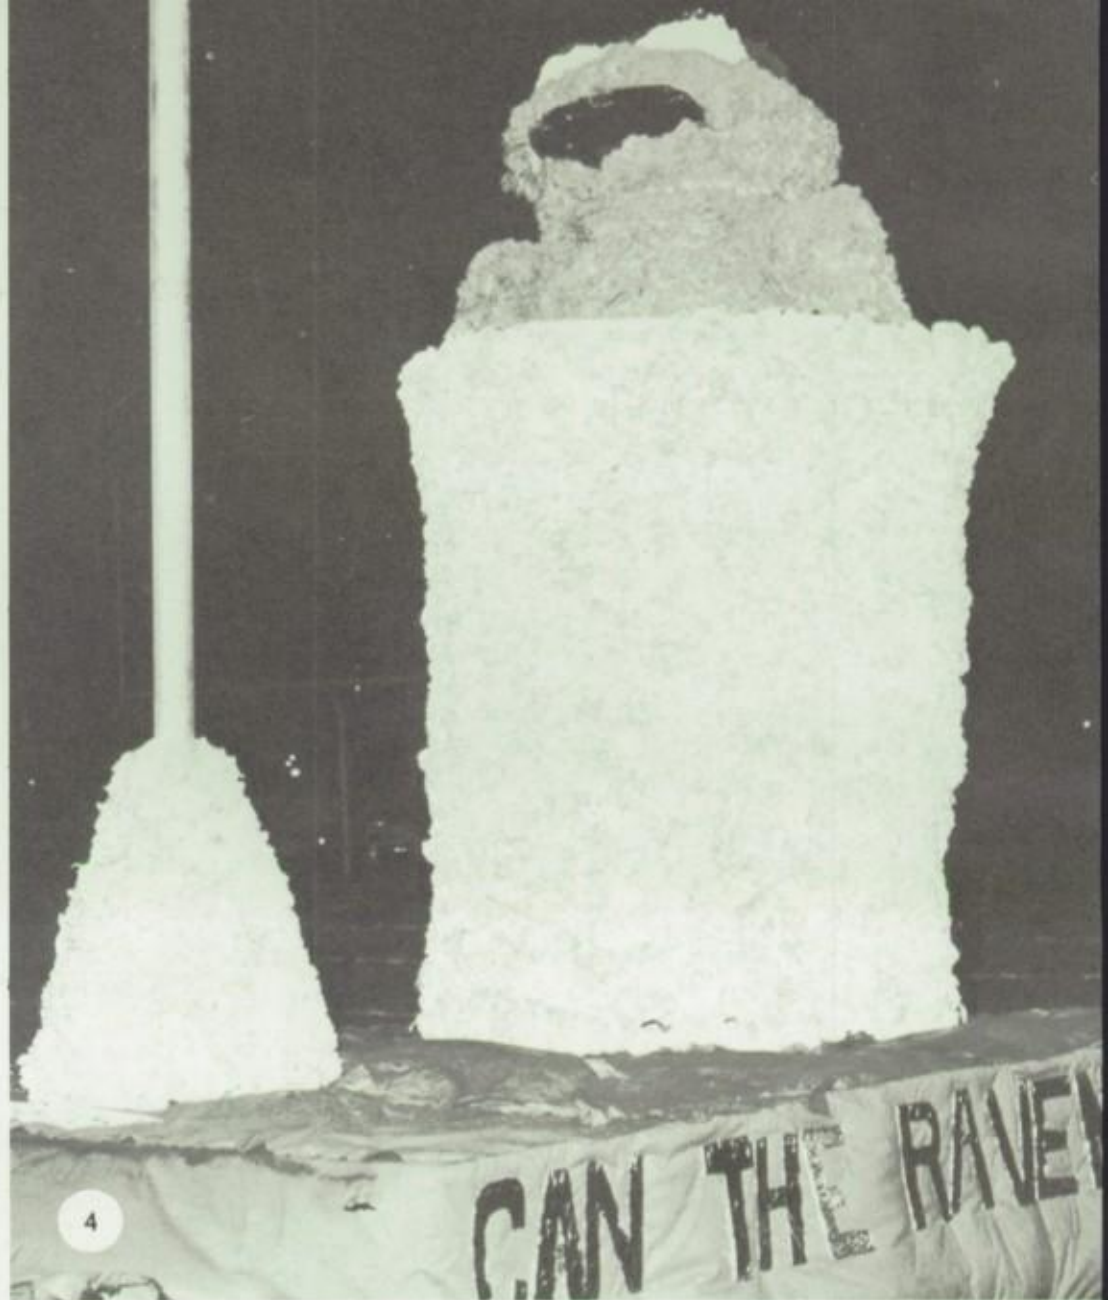

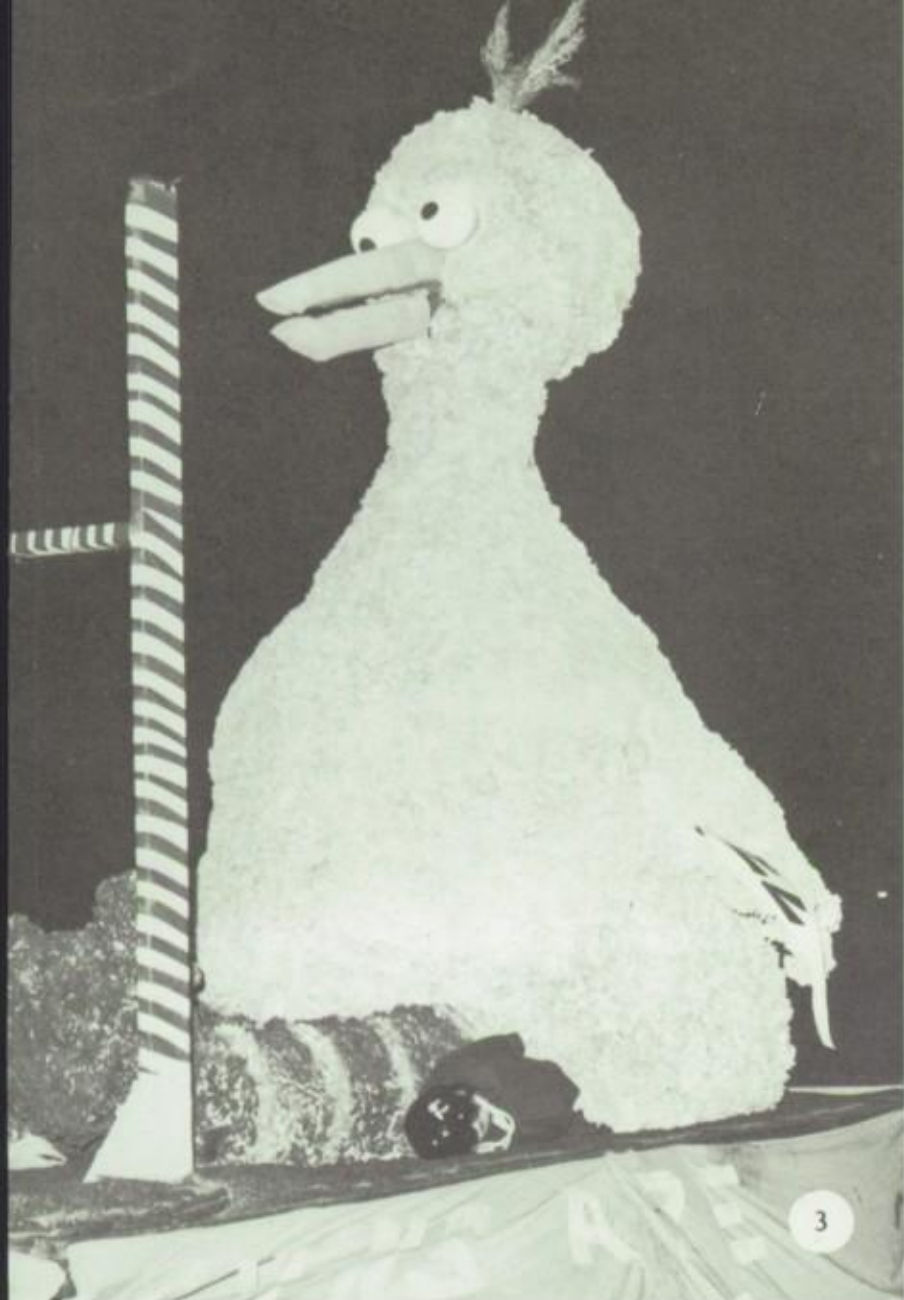

Sesame Street characterizes GR Homecoming

The highlight of Richard Week this year was the spectacular float competition. Following the theme of Sesame Street, the results were as follows: Seniors took first with Big Bird who actually talked and moved his wings. The Juniors captured second with their version of Oscar in the garbage can. The freshmen class showed a tremendous amount of spirit and their Grover took third place. Last but not least the Sophomores rendition of Cookie Monster landed fourth place.

The climax of the whole week came during the game at the halftime ceremonies. The homecoming court; queen Tracey Tear and her court consisting of Beth Thomas, Margie Elsesser, Cindy Muzzin and Cindy Yurly were escorted on the field. The floats paraded gallantly on the track around them. To top off the night our mighty Pioneers won with a score of 14 to 7 over the Benedictine Ravens.

The First American Sound Band provided music at the dance, held the next night. Many happy memories were left with the couples as the evening came to a beautiful close.

1. Members of the Homecoming Court after the crowning: Margie Elsesser, Cindy Muzzin, queen, Tracy Tear, Cindy Yurley and Beth Thomas. 2. Our radiant homecoming queen, Tracy Tear. 3. Big Bird chips into first place for the Senior class. 4. The Junior's "Oscar" cans second place. 5. The Freshmen's "Grover" captivates third place. 6. "Cookie Monster" eats up fourth place for Sophs.

Sadie Hawkins brings lotsa fun for everyone

It's always a special event when Richardians celebrate Sadie Hawkins! This year was no exception. The senior girls chose several young men to reign during the days prior to the dance. The "kings" were: Joe Daly, Doug Ochmanek, Kevin Mc Grath, Rich York and Pete Langenhorst.

The Juniors hosted the dance and converted the cafetorium into a silver starred haven. At special ceremonies at the dance Rich York was crowned King of Sadie Hawkins!

1. "King" Rich York displays his corsage to Margie Elsesser. 2. With great solemnity the court model their precious Burger Chef crowns. 3. Karyn Trudeau welcomes everyone to a fun night at the Sadie Hawkins dance. 4. Everybody enjoys a good beat and tries the latest dance steps. 5. It looks like everybody wants to be king — maybe next year!

1. Advanced Choral members fill the air with joyous carols. 2. Announcer Dave Labadie entertains the audience with his wit. 3-4. Margie Elsesser and Sue DiCosmo, flutists, add their talent to the Christmas Concert. 5. Setting the mood for the Christmas Concert was the manger scene and the beautifully decorated Christmas tree. 6. Angela Wing performs another expression of praise through dance. 7. Mary Kason and Jane Roll amuse two members of the younger audience. 8. The audience joins in singing Christmas carols.

Music Department sponsors season concerts

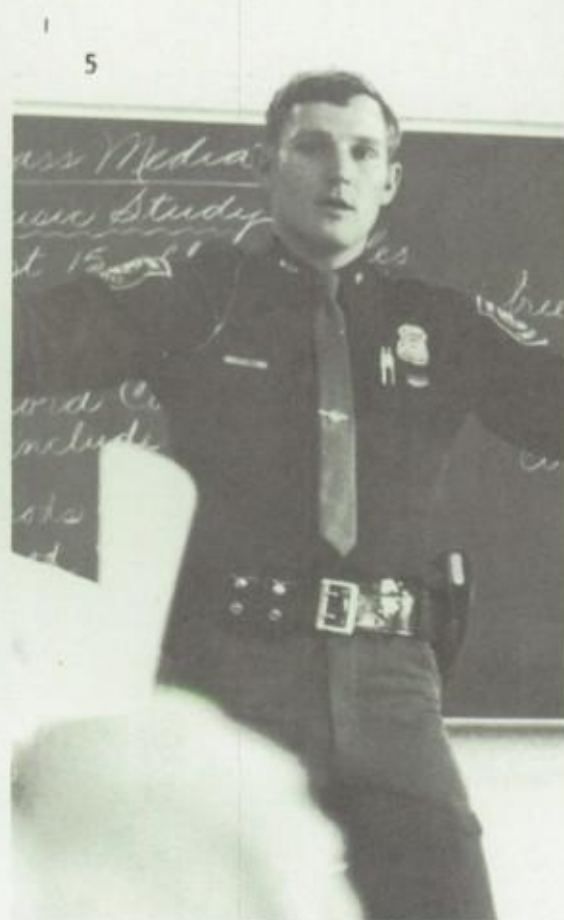

Enrichment days fulfilling for everyone at G.R.

Have you ever learned to play euchre? Did you have a chance to visit Toronto for the day? Would you like to learn to dance to the disco beat? Have you ever talked with a radio personality? These questions were answered for GR students. They had a chance to participate in a three day enrichment program. All kinds of classes: backpacking, jewelry making, hairstyling, tennis; all kinds of speakers; FBI agent, executives, newspaper man, educators, career spokesmen; all types of field trips: to the hospital, TV studi, trap-shooting-made this new activity a big success.

Preparations for this experience began months in advance. Pre-registration and formal registration followed. The entire faculty as well as many parents joined in to make the enrichment activity a reality.

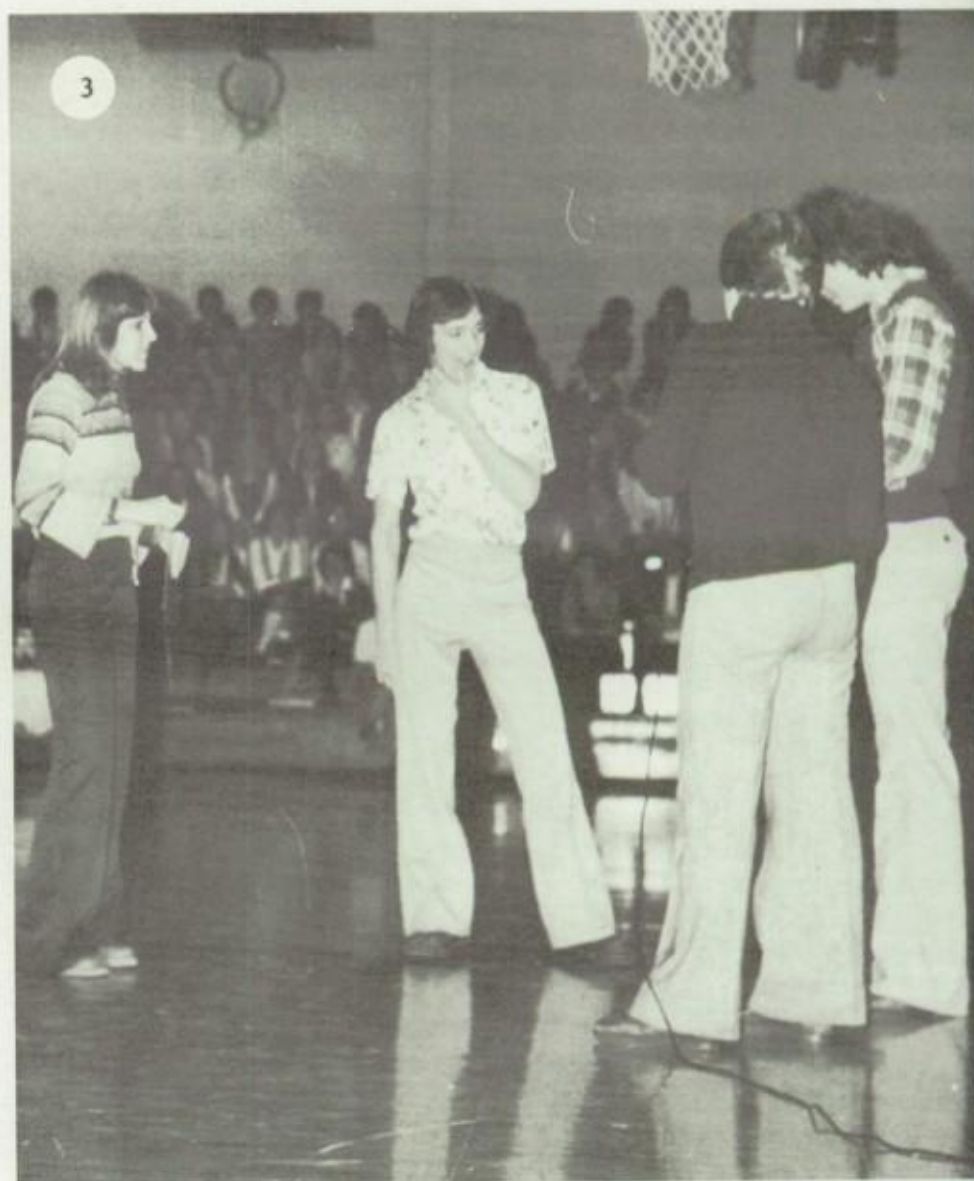

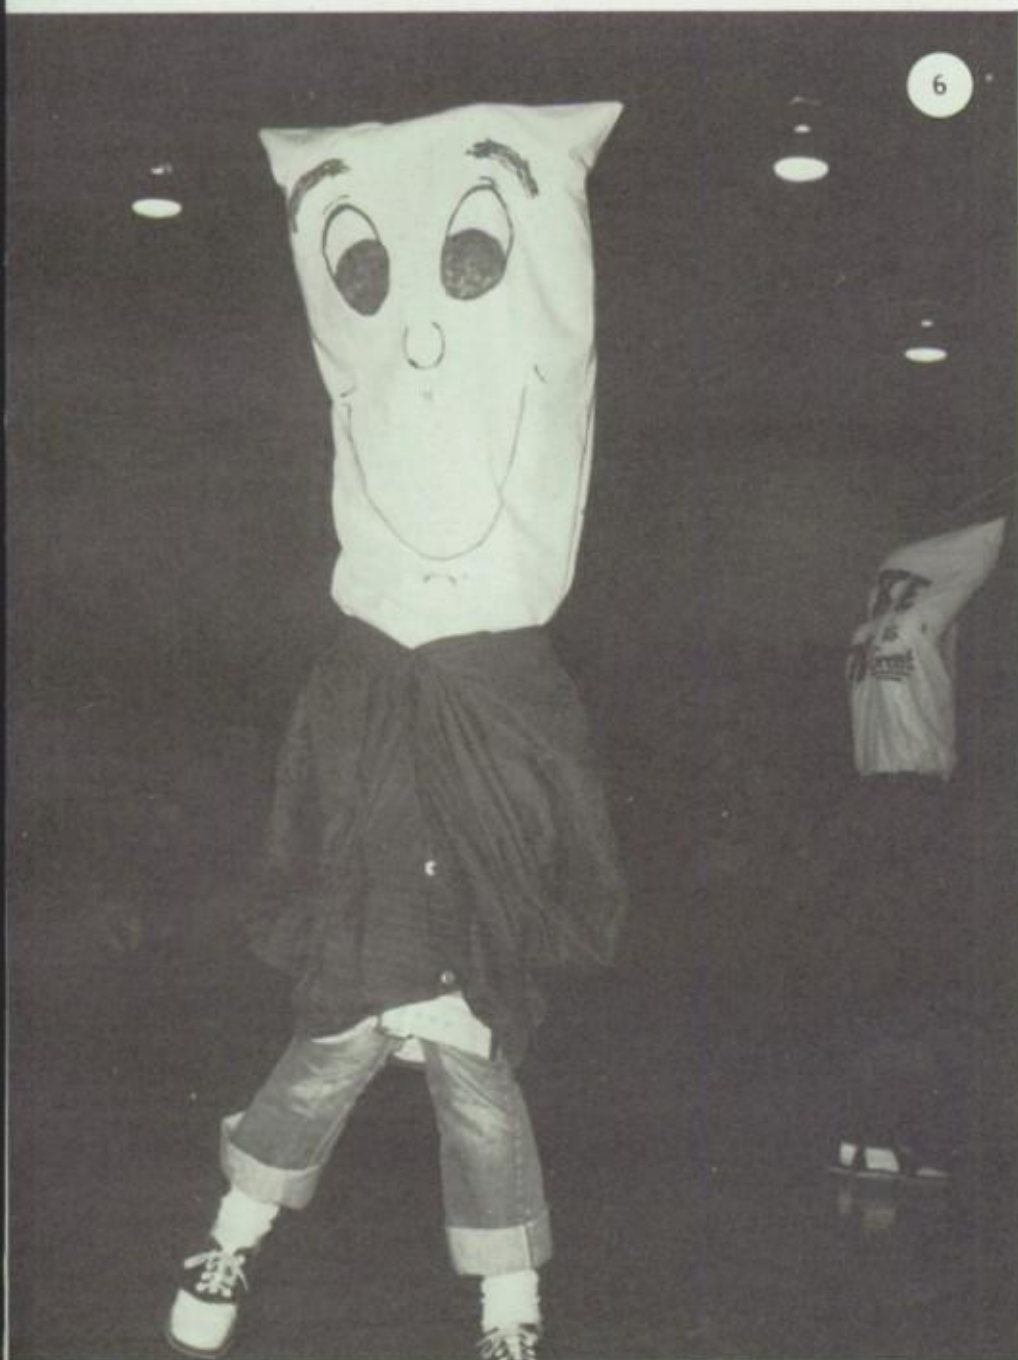

1. "Sign in please," and get your days schedule and routine. 2. Brian Navarre works intensely on his project. 3. "Is it soup yet?" asks Kim Mandernach of Dennis Cullens. 4. Colleen Darcy tries her best to get her lettering right. 5. "Stop — Thief!" demonstrates the officer during his lecture. 6. See what you can do if you only have the patience. 7. Slot A going horizontally into slot B . . . 8. Lisa Blanzky works hard at measuring and cutting and assembling her project.

Excitement and spirit abounds at Richard

Spirit, spirit, spirit! January 24, 1977 touched off a week of class and individual competition on who could generate the most spirit. Many activities were planned for Spirit Week.

Monday, Spirit Week was rung in by bells ringing through the halls. Tuesday was the Guys' Silence Day. The object: the guys couldn't talk to the girls; if they did they had to give that girl a button. The girl with the most buttons won. Wednesday was the Girls' Silence Day. The same thing happened, only the girls couldn't talk to the guys. The winners of those days were: John Kernan and Ellen Girrbach. Thursday was Burgundy and White Day. Whoever dressed the most patriotic won a Pioneer Burgundy and White Cake. Scott Sutherby was chosen by the Cheerleaders as the best "Patriotic Pioneer." Unfortunately the weather turned against us on Friday and school was closed. The announcement of the bulletin board competition, the pep rally, and the Regatta dance were postponed to the following week.

1. Sophomores Charlotte Gilbert and Bryan Koniarz participate in Slave Day. 2. The Spirit Week Pep Rally had many surprises as Jamie Muto interviews Groucho Marx alias John Adam. 3. The Silence Day Couple: Ellen Girrback and John Kernan. 4. Jerry Bosman enjoys Slave Day, as Debbie Lividini and Lea Anne Adams work hard to please their master. 5. John Daly takes it easy as his slaves, Ellen Girrback and Geni Gervasi carry him through the halls. 6. Who are these strange characters at our Pep Rally? Why they are the GR Cheerleaders arousing spirit.

On March 23, 1977, if you thought you saw ghosts wandering the halls, be assured you were not going crazy! These pale-faced people were actually the generous, brave blood donors for the first annual GR Blood Bank.

Margie Elssesser's idea was brought together by the fine efforts of the Red Cross, Pat and Livia Makahon, Beth Thomas, Ed Gilbert, and Teresa Gorno. These volunteers would quickly come to the aid of the 93 students and faculty who attempted to donate for this worthwhile cause. The donors went through a thorough check out; temperature, iron count, blood pressure and then a long list of questions. Finally came the often feared needle to draw the precious blood. The goal of 50 points of blood was greatly surpassed by the donating of 76 pints. The GR community really came through at this first annual Blood Bank.

1. Waiting for their turn on the tables are Mary Jo Barnosky, Linda Asciutto, and Dan Burns. 2. Pat Brusky is checked to make sure his temperature is A-okay. 3. An important message from Jerry Cervanak's feet. 4. The Red Cross nurse checks Jamie Leonard's abounding iron. 5. "I want your blood," was the word to Natalie McBrayer. 6. A dizzy Terry Dwornick slowly rises from her good deed for the day. 7. Mr. Calahan gets a helping hand with orange juice from Teresa Gorno.

Gabriel Richard presents Sound of Music

"The hills are alive with the sound of music." Yes, the halls were alive with the sound of music and bubbling enthusiasm as a hundred students participated in the annual spring musical. This year's play, "The Sound of Music" was performed on March 26, 27 and April 1, 2, 3 by countless dedicated, hard working students. Long hours and much sacrifice were part of the production which captured the hearts and imaginations of appreciative audiences. More importantly, the students themselves made the play a success because of their love for the play and their friendship with each other.

Mr. Harvey La Framboise (director), Sister Christine Gretka (musical director), Sister Pauline (producer), Sister Joelyn (production manager), and Beverly Kauza (choreographer) receive a special thank you for their dedication and guidance. But most of all a sincere thanks is extended to the students of Richard who continue to make GR drama productions so special!

Fun and work are both part of Student Council

Student Council, GR's governing body, represents the school through elected officials. SR. Ruth Ann acted as moderator.

Members of the Student Council are: Presidents-Dave Koniarz- CORE, Cathy Jelinski- Drama, John Cisclo- French, Teresa Gorno- Health, Mary Jo Barnosky- Home Ec, Jose Valdez- Latin, Pete Langenhorst- Mens Varsity, Fay Wright- Music, Anne Guyotte- N.H.S., Val Watson- Polish, Kathy Lauzon- Richardian, Karen Koniarz- Spanish, Mary Kay Raubolt- Girls Varsity, Phyllis Prosnewski- Yearbook EXECUTIVE BOARD: Joe Daly- President, Rich York- Vice President, Sue DiCosmo- Recording Secretary, Joan Thoma- Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer- Margie Elsesser, Entertainment Coordinator- Cindy Muzzin. Pete Langenhorst speaks up once more in behalf of his boys.

The Seniors and Juniors and their dates enjoyed the magic of the Prom. The gold elegance of the Saint George's Grecian Center provided the setting for this once-a-year gala event.

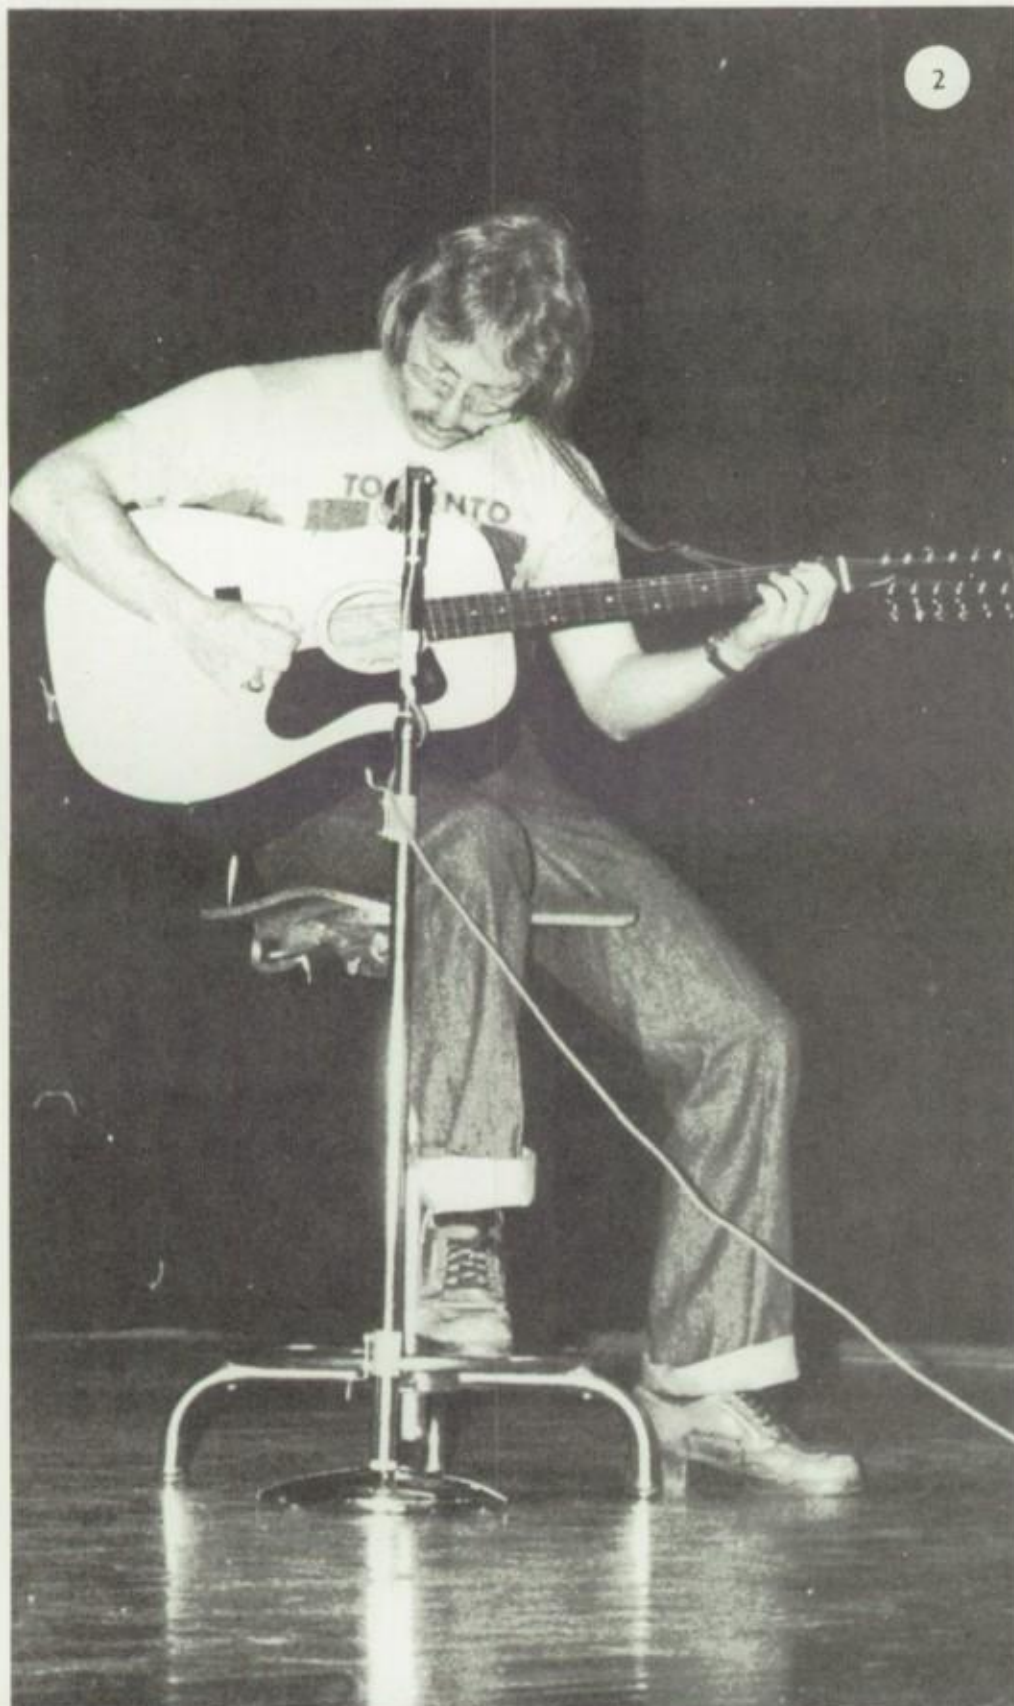

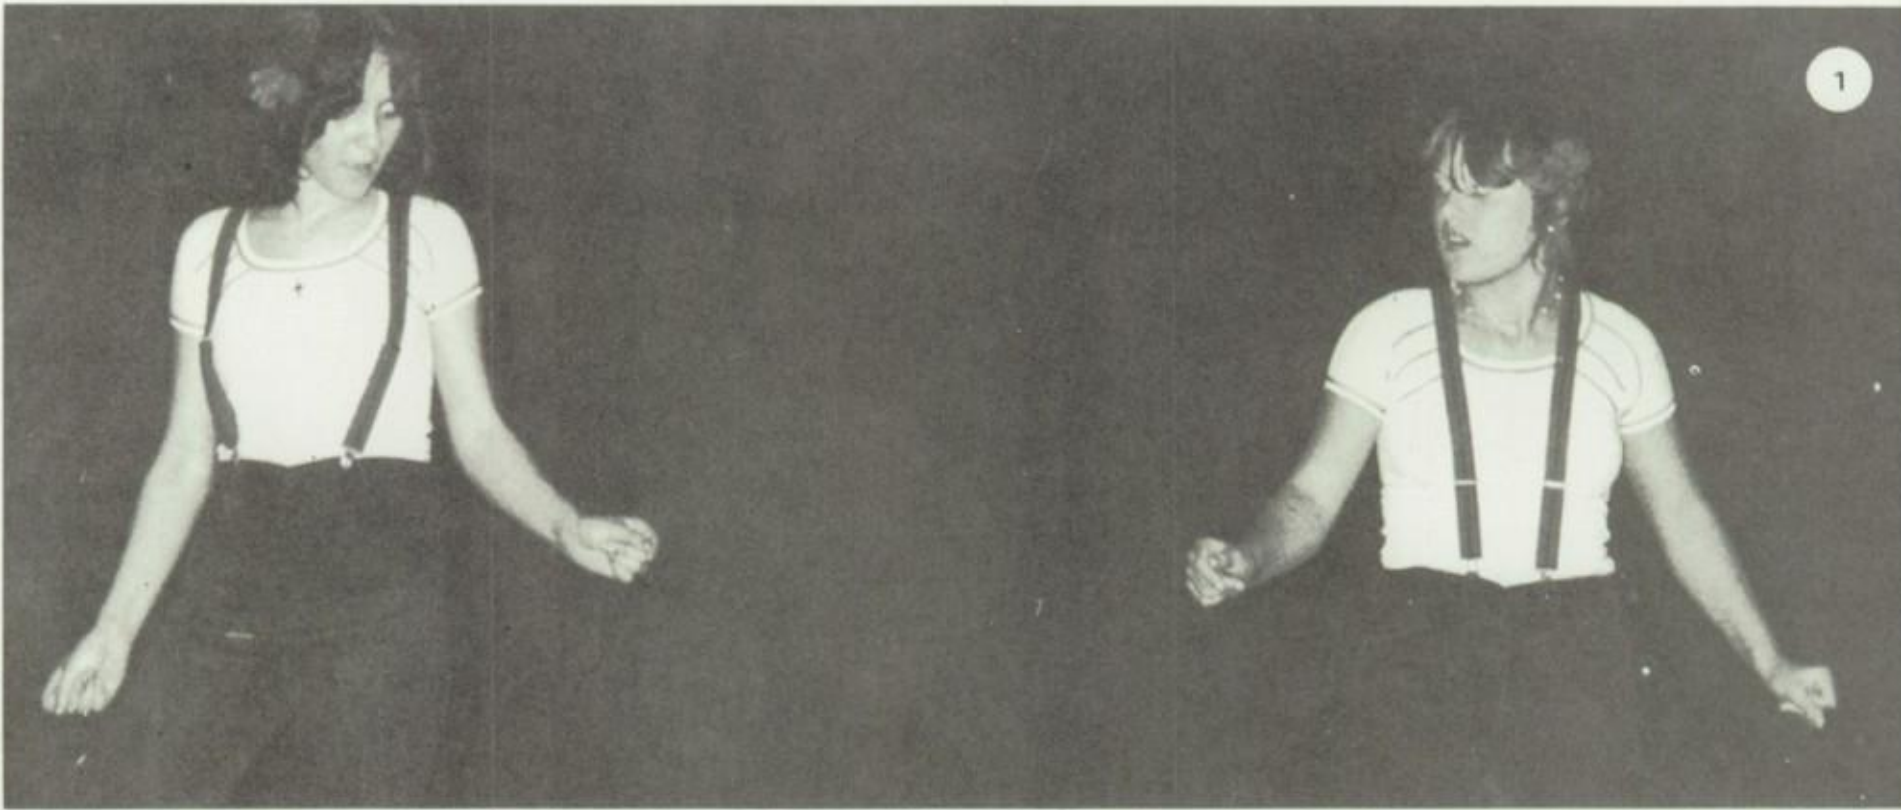

Dressed in their finest, couples danced to the music of the talented "Peyote" band. Enjoying a delicious meal, taking pictures, sipping punch, were all part of that special evening.

The Juniors under the leadership of Ed Gilbert, Eugene LaChapelle, Laurie Di Maria and Annie Beteag, hosted this dance for the Faculty and students.

Hidden Richard talent emerges from the dark

Richard students have a lot of talent that in the past has been well hidden! From dancing and singing and playing a musical instrument to gymnastics and performing skits and producing movies, they're all there. So the Music Department sponsors the coffee house and taps this talent and brings forth many hours of fun and laughter and entertainment for all.

Coffee Houses are held every few months and the various acts, ranging from students to teachers are presented in the form of a variety show. The activity is opened to anyone who feels he has an act that others will enjoy.

Sister Chris Gretka holds tryouts for perspective acts about two weeks prior to the show. She chooses who will do what and when they will do it. Many hours of hard work and dedication go into these preparations. It's well worth the effort.

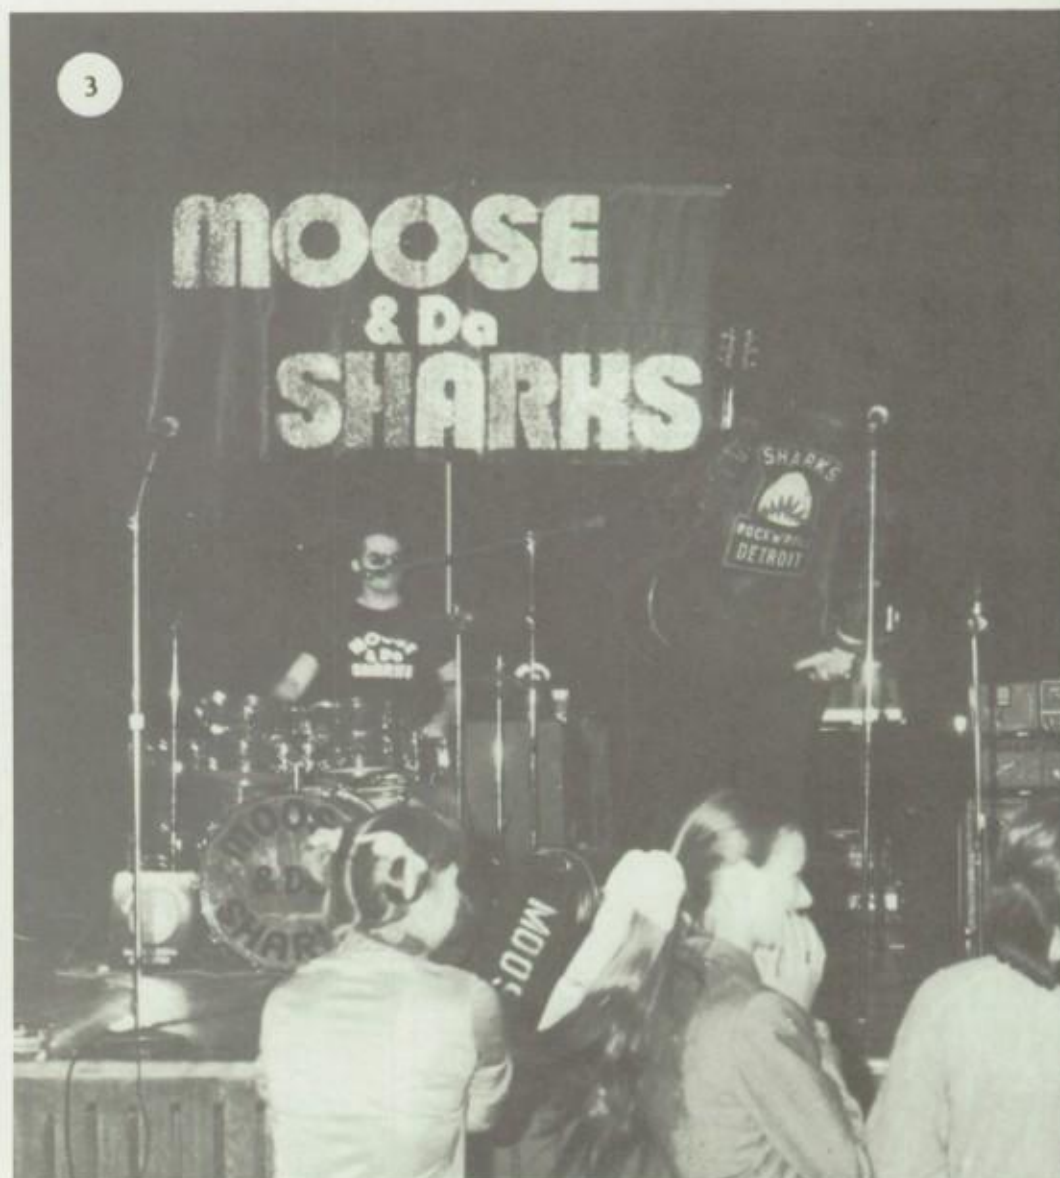

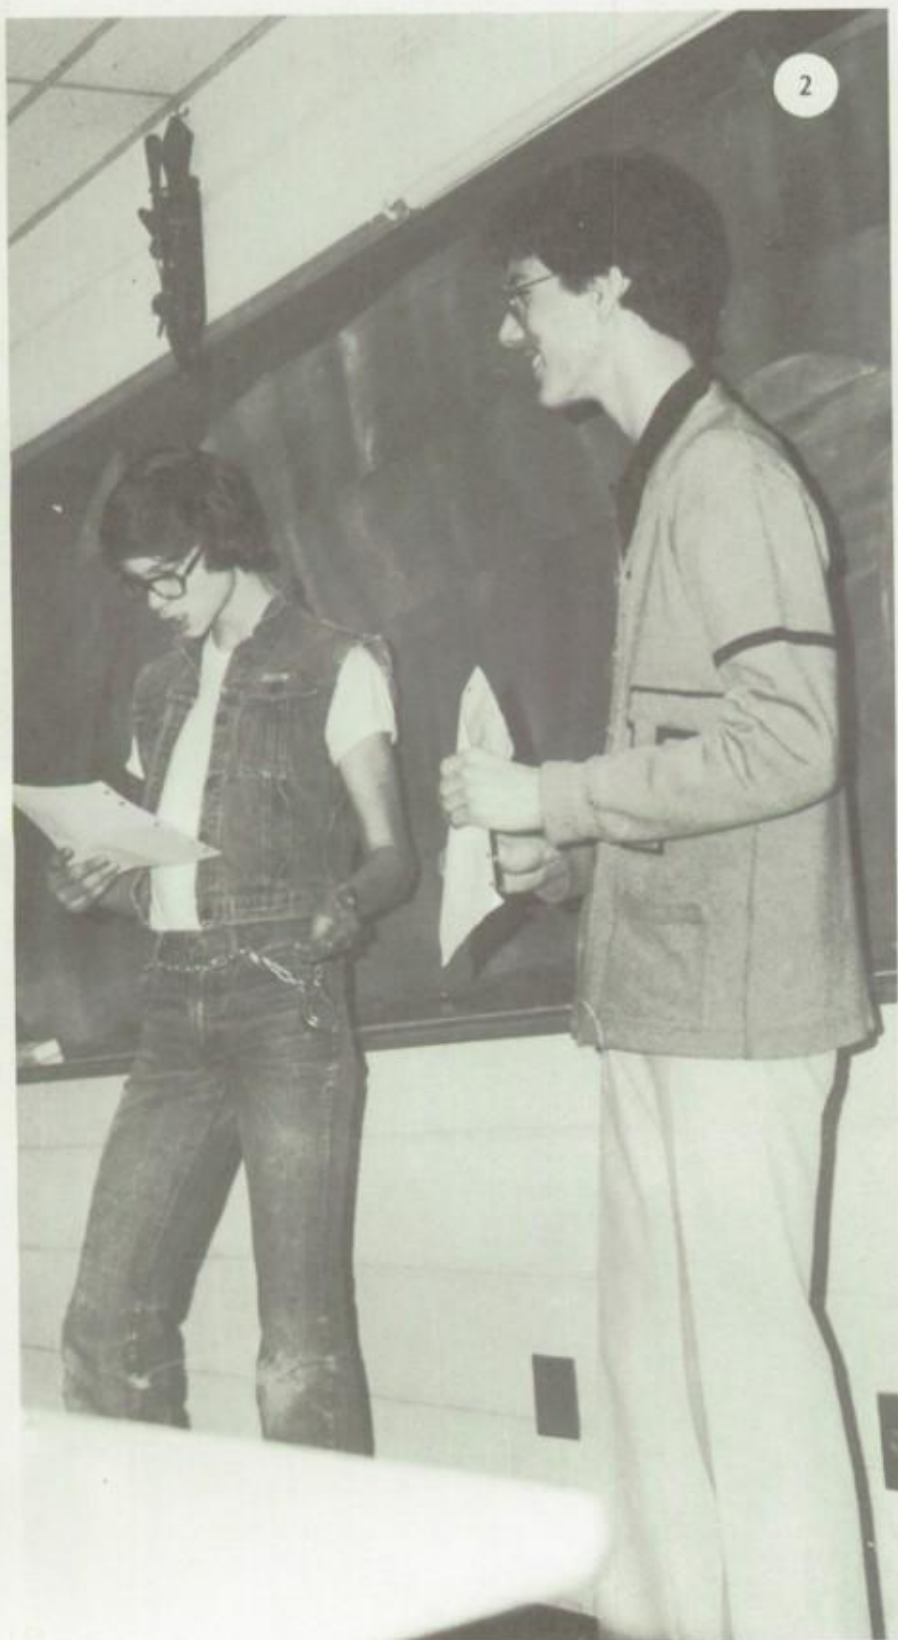

1. These two Richardians display great dancing skill. 2. Jerry Bosman sings and plays fantastically. 3. Mike Borosso's hidden talent is found. 4. Tony Osladil puts feeling into it. 5. Mr. Strauss is surprisingly good. 6. Val Watson and Annie Be-teag perform well together.

50's Day oldens a newer generation of pupils

50's Dance at Richard brought out many old clothes, jewelry, and getups from attics and basements. The purpose of this special day is to raise the spirit of Richard's students and prepare them for the 50 Day Dance the same night.

The famous local 50's band, "Moose and the Sharks" gave a super performance, playing favorites including "The Duke of Earl" and "Hound Dog".

Many of the students participated in the dress up day and many more danced to the 50's beat. It was both fun and successful!

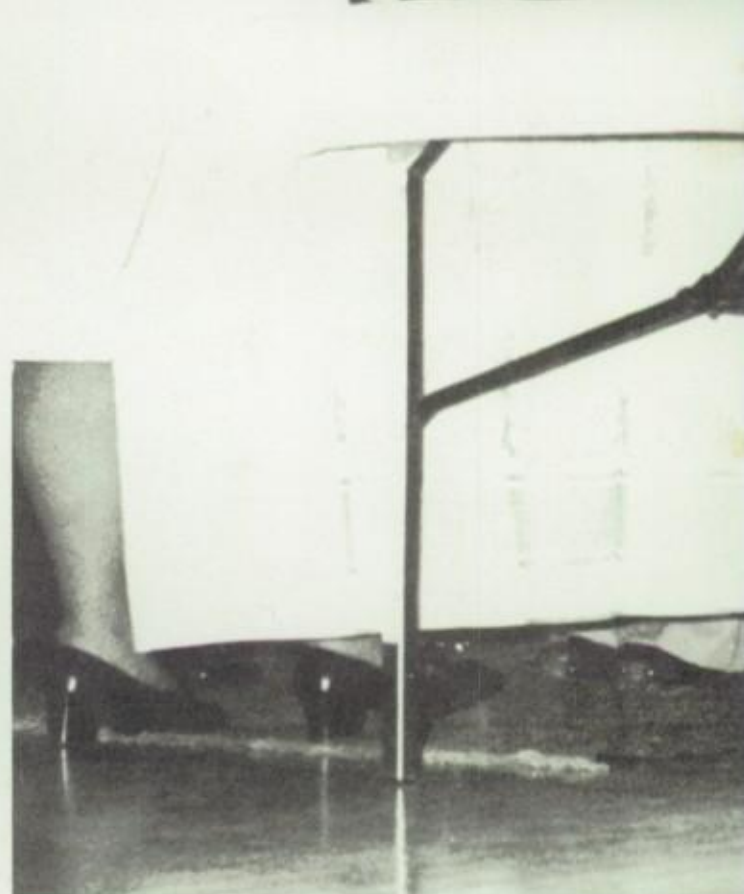

1. Michelle Dallos shows her cool. 2. Dave Desmarais gives a report while modeling his getup. 3. Girls went wild over the band. 4. A number of girls danced to the beat. 5. Even the Mickey Mouse ears showed. 6. "I can dance to it!"

National Honors Society benefit all of Richard

N.H.S., more formally known as the National Honors Society, once again held their induction ceremony for the new members. Celebrating with a Mass and honors for old members, the new members then took their oath.

Headed by Anne Guyot, President, and guided by Sister Mary Robin, Moderator, the N.H.S. gave recognition to those members outstanding in both the scholastic and service fields. Many of the students participated in activities which promoted the good of both teachers and students.

1. Ann Guyot gives a speech at the N.H.S. inductions. 2. Joe Motowski talks to the assembly. 3. Denise Motowski lights the candle during the ceremony. 4. New members look on with interest. 5. Paulette Kish receives her honors from Sr. Joel.

A new Ski Club takes off for the slopes

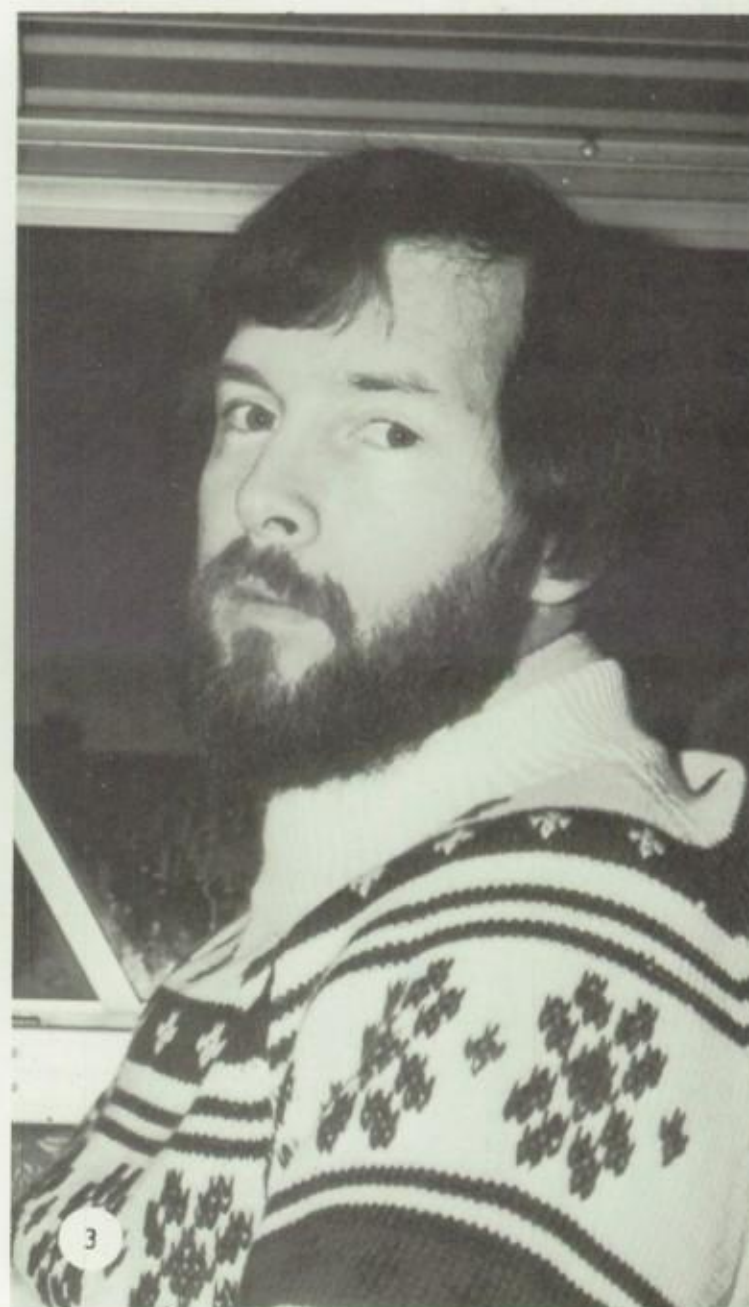

The 1976-77 school year marked a beginning for the Ski Club. Through time, dedication, and a lot of work, the Ski Club was brought together and made one of the most popular clubs at G.R. in no time.

Thanks to Liz Wesyberry, founder, the club saw many fun times on the hills of Alpine Valley.

Skiing came as a new experience to many Richardians, while others SEEMED to know what it was all about. It didn't take long to learn, however, and many members even dared to go down the mogal hills. Whether out of challenge, curiosity, or pure craziness, noone really knows why.

A special thanks is in hand for Mr. Michael Weatherhead for without his required faculty guidance there possibly would be no Ski Club.

All in all, the students gained many things as cold feet, red faces, bruised bones, and an encouraging shove down the slope, whenever the will to be daring had all but vanished.

1. "Smiling is easy now" says Jerry Bosman, after finishing a bumpy ride down the mogal run. 2. Emotions are mixed on the way home. It looks like Monica Marsh, Cheryl Valasco, Colleen Coogan, and Mike Elsesser had a better day skiing, than the frustrated Mike Arsenault. 3. Brian Murphy seems happy enough to simply be headed home after a rough day on the slopes.

CORE works at helping us learn to love

It's true that Gabriel Richard has a great many clubs under its roof, but the one most worthy of praise, has to be CORE.

Under the direction of Sr. Joan Jurski, Core helps many people in many ways.

What started out as a Community Service program, has now become one of the clubs most populated by Richard students.

Every Tuesday these students work with the kids from Core in many activities. This year Core did something new by putting on a play. Both Core kids, and G.R. students alike showed off their talents in "Hansel and Gretel."

Above all else, G.R. student workers must have an extremely excessive amount of patience. This is because the children involved in Core are both physically and mentally handicapped and total attention must be given to them.

The most important element in Core's success however, is Love. These children must feel love, to feel accepted. At the same time, Richard students have that love returned to them through the smiling faces of love on the kids.

1. Jimmy Nomecos watches attentively as Linda Tobkin helps him learn a new song on the piano. 2. Michael Aldrich and Richard Fonz value having a friend like Ken Bovitz to lean on. 3. Bottom Row: Jimmy Nomecos, Linda Tobkin.

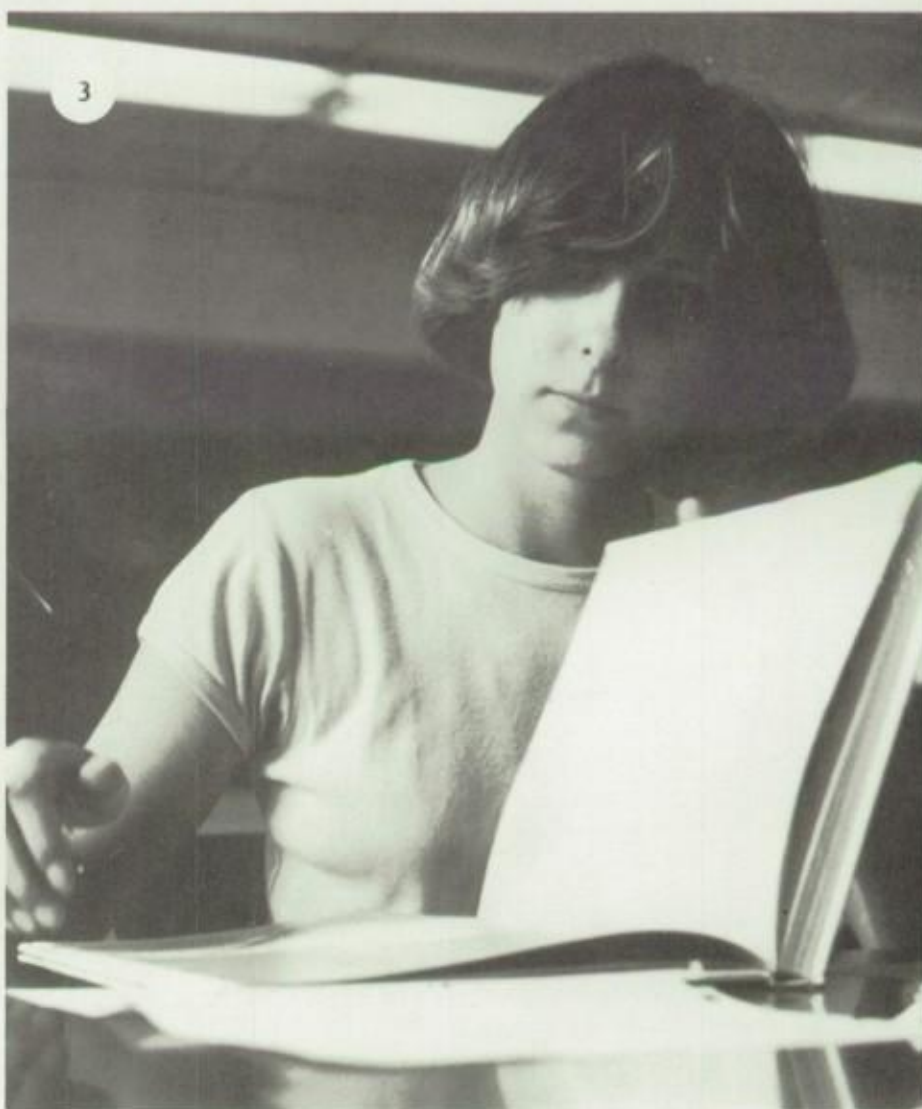

Journalism, Newspaper keep students busy

The Journalism class found that yearbook is not an easy task. Layouts, copy, cutlines and advertising were not only new to these students but at times difficult to handle.

Students were responsible to contact all administration, classes, clubs, and sports personnel to help them accurately cover the school year.

The school newspaper was an after school project with Kathy Lauzon as editor. The paper was published three times a semester.

Profits from the sale of the Richardian were put towards the senior edition, given to the seniors as a memoire from the students.

1. Kathy Lauzon, Richardian editor, smiles as she sells the paper. 2. "These layouts aren't as easy as they look," says Cheryl Valasco. 3. Beth Thomas looks over a yearbook for ideas.

Photography fascinates future photographers

As part of the Library Aids class students have learned the ins and outs of the world of photography.

The use of a 35mm camera, types of film, exposure settings and shutter speed help the students to take better pictures.

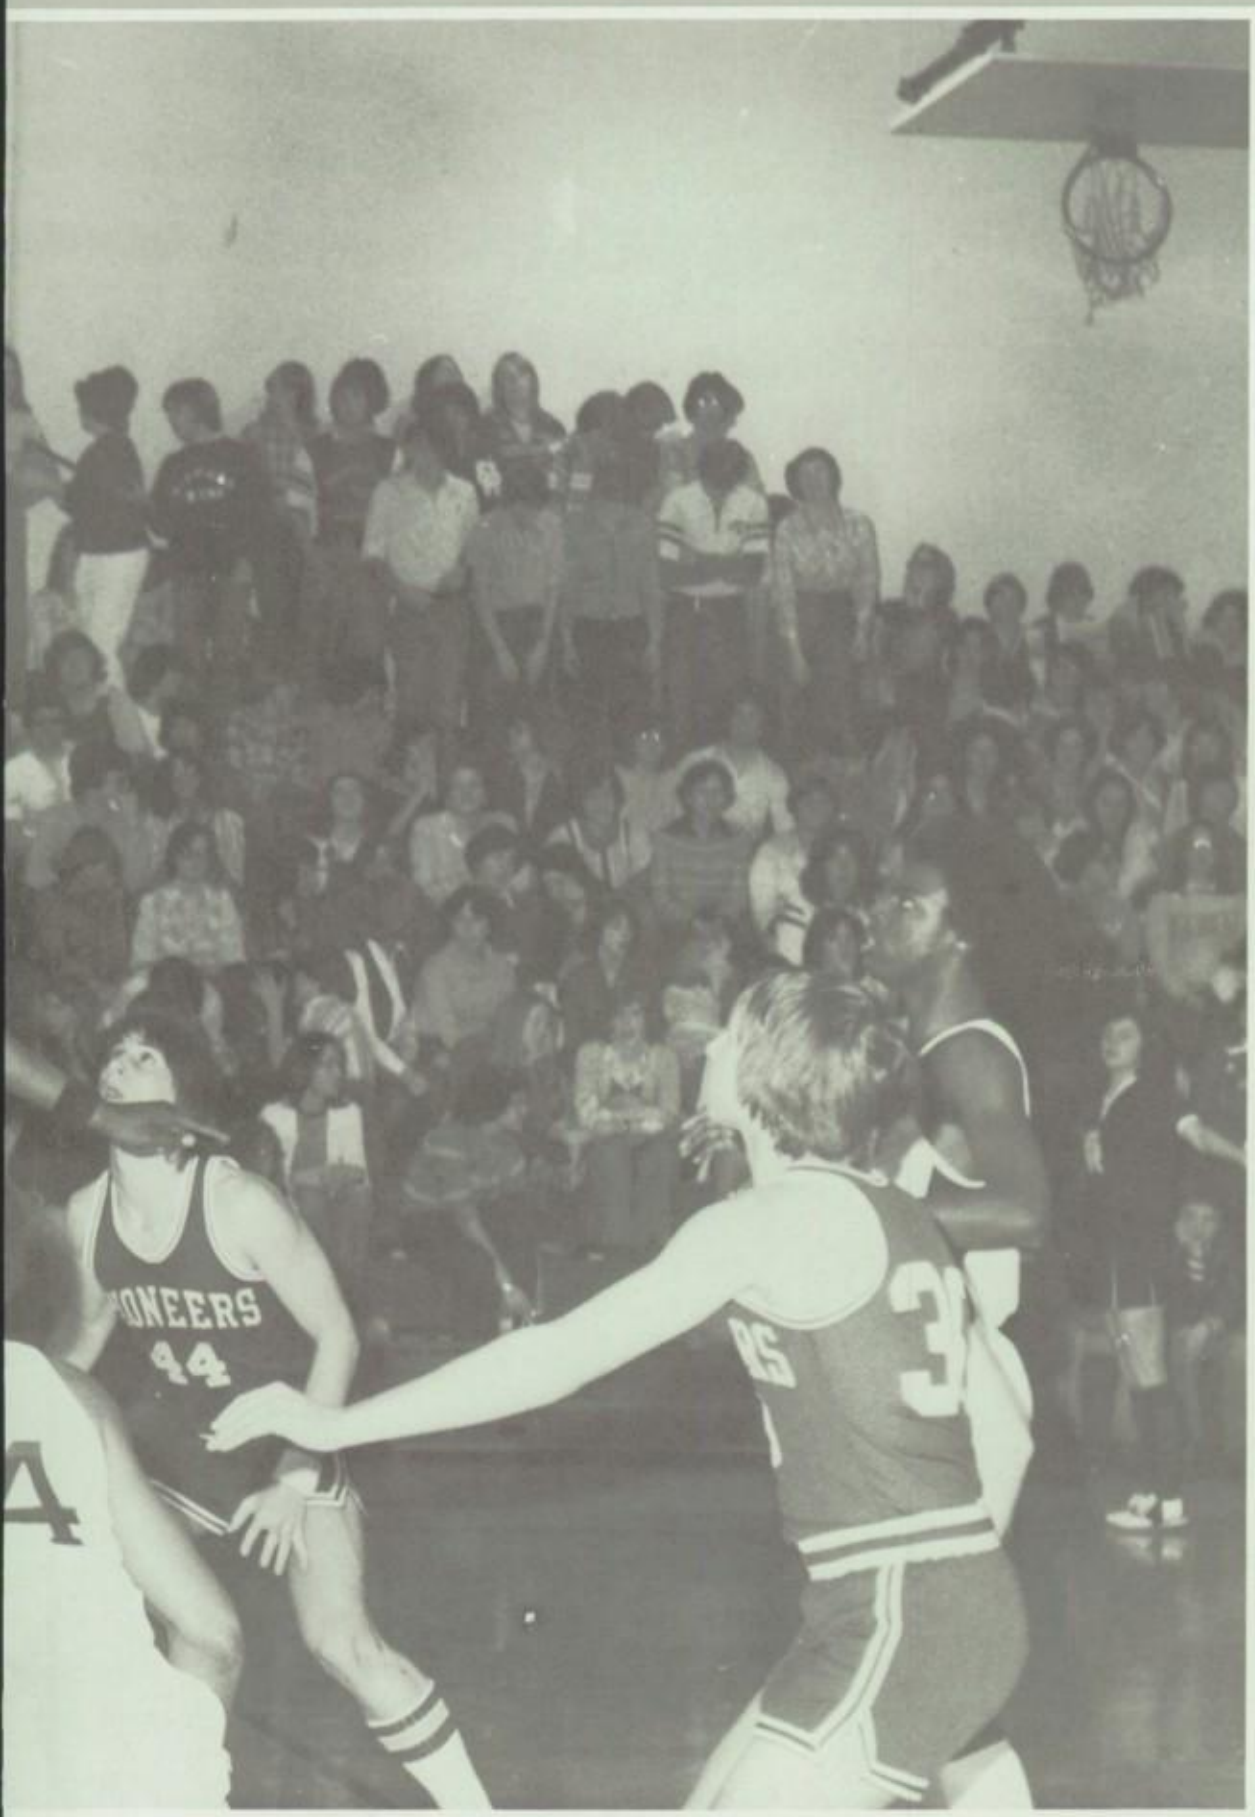

With darkroom techniques such as film and picture developing, students can immediately see the results of their picture taking.

1. Linda Redd learns how to thread 35mm film into a developer. 2. Mrs. Robert Kish and Sister Virginia examine some of the students' work. 3. Barbara Zeestraten and Jessica Huckestein learn how to photograph a poster.

GR Golf team claims A-West Division Title

This year, Gabriel Richard's golf team swung its way through a very successful season. After a strong start in September, Coach Stan Bussard and the 12 golfers steered the team to an A-West Division Championship. They had a league record of 8 wins and no losses, and an overall record of 14 wins with only one loss. Tim Thomas led the team with an average of 38.5, followed by Jim Breslin golfing 39.5, Joe Daly, 40.8, Dennis Baechle, 40.8, Brian Gneiwik, and John Rist, 41.2.

After winning the A-West Division, the team went on to place third in the Catholic League. The next challenge to the team was the State Meet. Competing against 75 teams, the Pioneers placed third. They then went on to play in the Pontiac Invitational and came out claiming First Place.

Gabriel Richard now has its first All-American Athlete, Jim Breslin, who was awarded this honor for his exceptional golfing ability. Jim also received All-League. Senior Tim Thomas was awarded All-League and All Catholic titles.

Varsity Football includes upsets and excitement

The 1976 Varsity football season got off to a great start when the new head coach Mr. Ed Maloney geared the team to a big upset over Carleton Airport. But the excitement didn't stop there. The mighty Pioneer team, which was highly underrated in the beginning of the season, proved to be a team of strength and power. The 7-0 shutout over rival St. Frances Cabrini was another one of the finest victories of the year. Despite many injuries to the players the Pioneers ended up with a 4-5 overall record.

At the end of the season several players received special awards and recognition. Dave Girrbach and Jerry Dwornick were each chosen as Player of the Week. Rich York qualified for the All-Area team, with Pete Langenhorst making All-Catholic and receiving also an All-State Honorable Mention. All-League players included Dave Girrbach, Jim Bates and Pete Langenhorst. An all season pass reception record was broken by Pat Bruske who caught ten passes.

The '76 J.V. football team worked long and hard hours preparing for the season ahead.

Head Coach John Gervasi started the training in early August and kept at it until the finish. Assistant Coaches Paul Carollo and Jim Cameron helped keep the team in condition for their tough opponents.

The Pioneers fell to defeat to a list of staggering opponents: Carleton Airport, Servite, Deporres, Cabrini, and St. Alphonsus.

The J.V. team were now ready for victory. Benedictine fell to the mighty Pioneers 20-8. The remaining opponents were too much for the Pioneers. The season ended with 1 victory and 7 losses overall. Despite their many losses the young team gained valued experiences. The future can only be brighter for these dedicated athletes.

Sportsmanship radiates through Girls' Varsity

The Varsity Girls Basketball team of 1976-77 proved Richards spirit through their sportsmanship. Their efforts to work as a team were shown throughout the season.

Co-Captains Mary Kay Raubolt and Linda Asciutto guided the team successfully. Much time was given by coach Denise Andreis and assistant, Amy Gierak who aided the girls with shooting skills, and defensive and offensive techniques and overall motivation. Joan Kuzava, team manager, and Linda Tobkin, statistian, helped in the organization and management of the team.

The Richard Community would like to congratulate the Girls Varsity for their energy in producing a triumphant team. A special congratulations to Mary Kay Raubolt for winning all-league, all-american, and most valuable player. Mary Kay was also the high scorer for the season with an astounding 178 points and 182 rebounds!

Varsity basketball brings entertainment for all.

The 1976-77 school year brought to the Pioneers as well-played, organized, and overall good basketball team. Under the coaching of Joe Charnley the team ended the season with an overall record of 12 wins and 10 losses. This included all games outside the league.

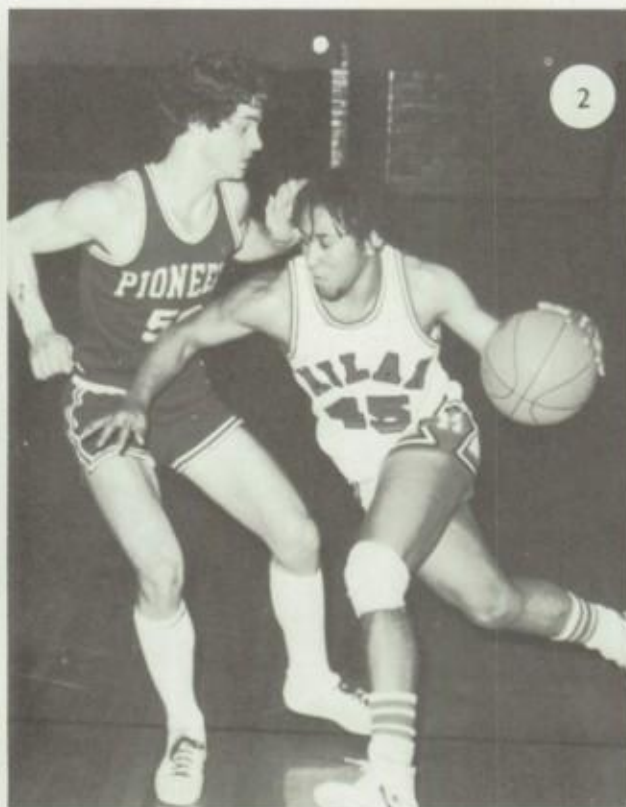

Throughout the season, the Pioneers performed to the delight of countless devoted fans. Some of the most climatic games included the ones played against Cabrini, Riverview, and DePorres.

1. The guys on the bench look on encouragingly as their teammates do their job. 2. Ed Perosky takes a shot while the opposing team watches helplessly. 3. Kevin McGrath, with great intensity, guards his opponent. 4. Gary Korpai takes a flying leap for the basket. 5. Doug Ochmanek pushes for the jump ball. 6. Minus Ed Perosky, the seniors of the team relax and pose for a picture after a hard game. 7. Scott Miller lets out a victory cry while going for a lay up shot. 8. Jay Sarnacki reaches for the ball just lost by his opponent.

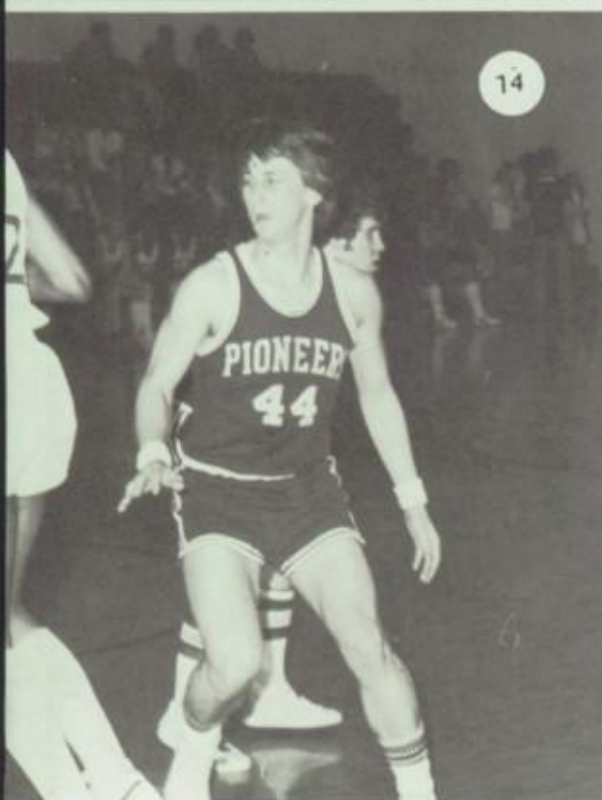

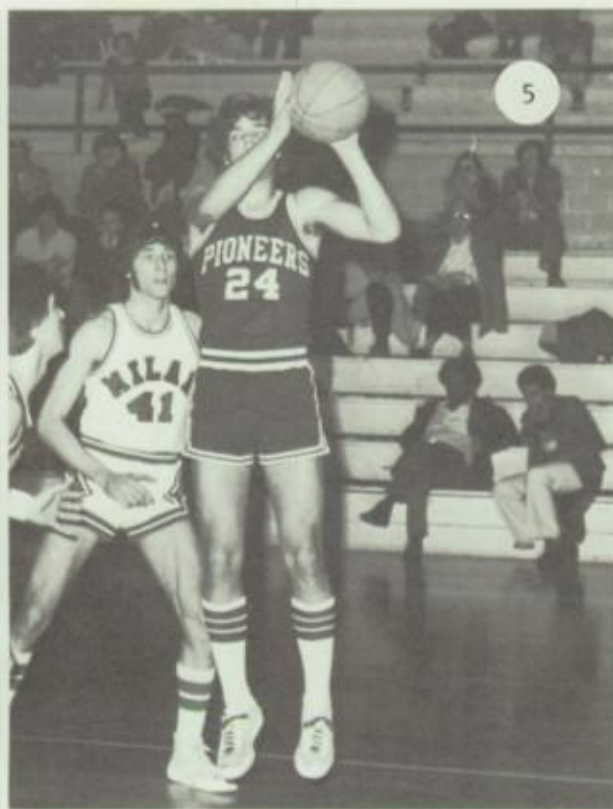

Basketball Playoffs bring a large number of loyal fans to the courts

After a fine season on the floor at home and away games, the 1976-77 Varsity Pioneers Basketball Team reached the playoffs in a flurry of excitement. Not only were the players tense and anxious, wondering just how they'd do, but so were the many students, teachers, and parents who attended the games.

Buses full of fans, including a Booster Club bus, travelled the distance to each and every game the Pioneers played. A record amount of students and parents filled the stands and faithfully cheered the team on, win or lose.

The players themselves did a fantastic job, playing better than ever and provided entertainment and enjoyment for everyone. Congratulations to the team and all the fans who were there to boost their spirit.

1. A mixture of Richard's classes unite together to back the team, win or lose. 2. Jeff Sarnacki does his best guarding Milan when they had the ball. 3. Doug Ochmanek steals the ball, one of the many fine plays he contributed to the play-offs. 4. Gary Korpall prepares to intercept the ball doing a good job during the game against Milan. 5. Scott Miller leaps to the basket scoring another two points. 6. The crowd watches intently encouraging GR's players. 7. A number of parents also add spirit to the large turnout. 8. "Give a yell . . .", "Go Pioneers!" "If I were a rooster . . ." roars the crowd throughout the game. 9. The Juniors stand out in quantity and quality in the crowds. 10.-11. Another look at the fans reveals their enthusiasm. 12. "You tell 'em coach." "Play to win" is Coach Charnley's command. 13. Kevin McGrath contributes two more points and models a new style of shooting at the same time. 14. An important member of the team, Jay Sarnacki is cautiously guarding his opponents. 15. Ed Perosky puts one in to add to his high scoring record of baskets.

JV Pioneers gain experience in teamwork

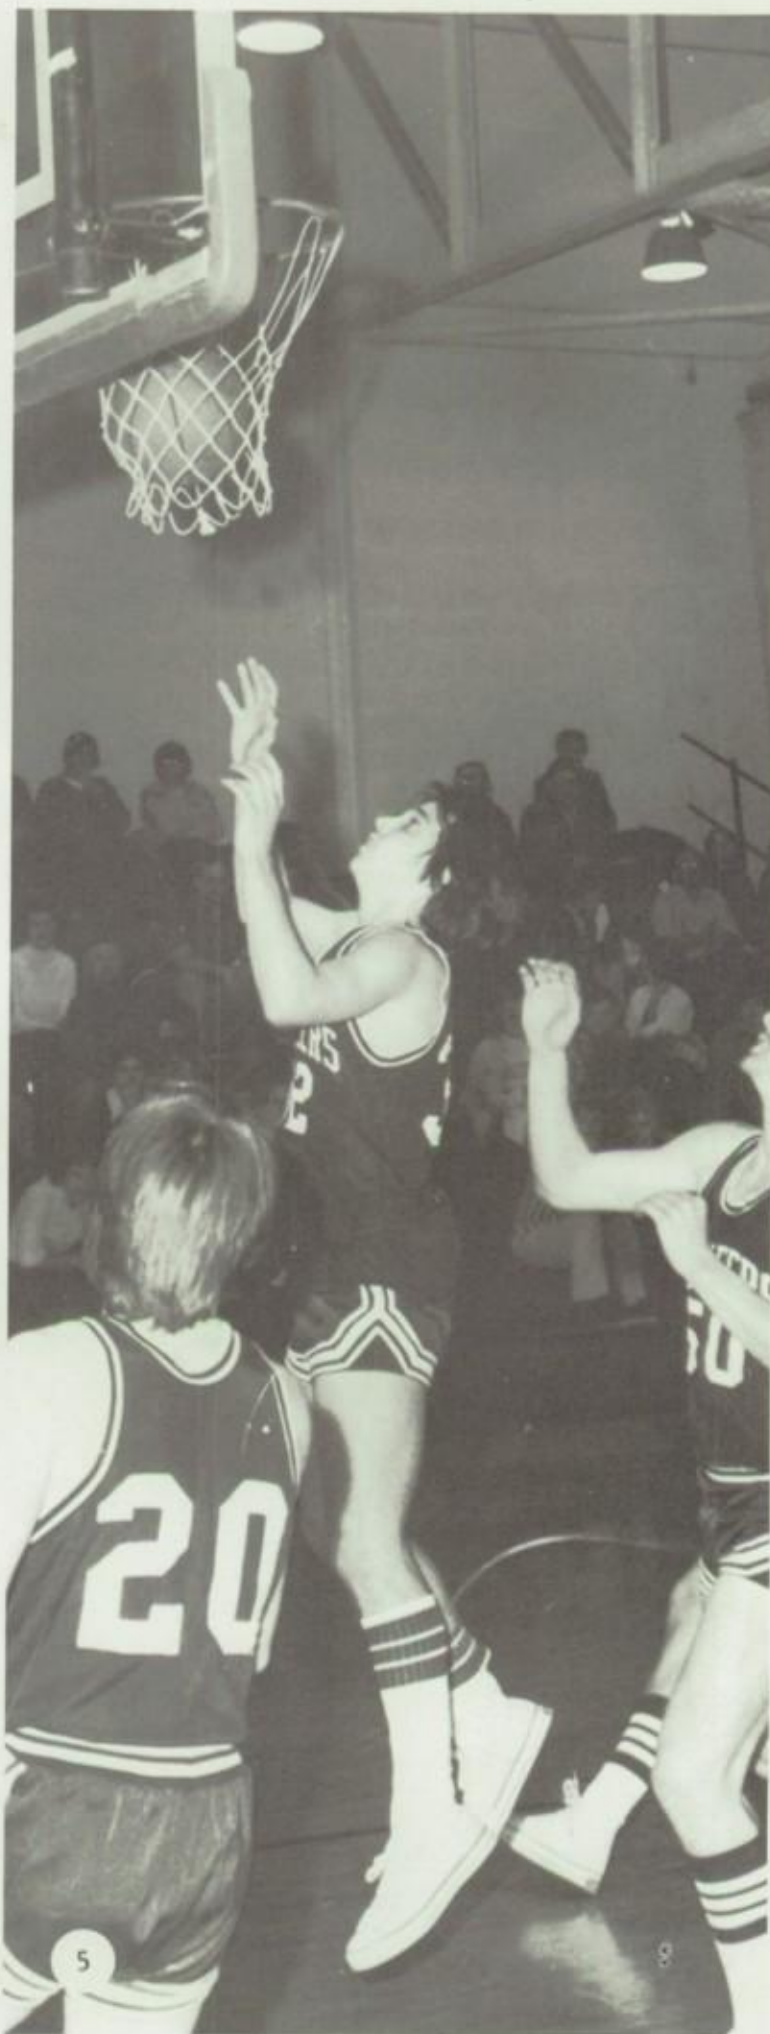

Starting practice in October, the 1976-77 Gabriel Richard Men's Junior Varsity Basketball Team worked hard for weeks preparing for their first game and the upcoming season. Concentrating on free-throws, lay ups, passing, running, and sprints, each member of the team turned out in top notch physical (and mental) condition, thanks to their coach.

Throughout the season they brought many more fans than ever before seen at a J.V. game and showed their skill and quality of performance in a number of exciting encounters. Highlighting these would be an exciting tension filled meet with Aquinas in which they were victors by two points. Another would be a high scoring game against rival DePorre.

Freshmen Pioneers score a successful season

The Freshman basketball team, under the direction of Mr. Ron Kohn, ended their season very successfully with a 13-6 record. All the hard work and sweat seemed to pay off not only for the coach, but the players as well. Every game was a hard fought battle and the young Pioneer team almost always pulled through with a victory well earned. Even the defeats were not easy ones. The team always gave it's best effort in every game and never gave up until the end.

The members of the mighty freshmen Pioneer basketball team of 1976-1977 includes Brian Navarre, Tom Danz, Mark Dallos, Marty O'Sullivan, Scott Freeman, Larry Walker, Steve Burke, Dave Burbo, Randy Miller, Doug Boner, Frank Beven, Tim Penn, Greg Carleton, John Gorman, and John Deku.

After such an impressive season this year the future looks very promising. With this as just the beginning, it seems the GR basketball team will still be strong and competitive for many years to come.

Girl Trackers get running start in a good season

The GR Women's Track Team experienced a season of contrasts- enthusiastic participation and some disappointing scores.

Under the leadership of Head Coach Claire Girard and inspired by their mascot "Little Red Caboose" the girls practiced and participated in a series of challenging meets.

In Class B Regionals the girls took 5th place in the 880 Relay, 880 Run, and in the mile relay.

Although not totally successful, the girls' chant "Second in A-West — No. (#1) one in Heart," kept their spirits high and set their goal for the next track season.

Richard Cinderman turn out an exciting season

Despite having a new coaching staff, and a young inexperienced team, the 1976-77 Pioneer "Cindermans" managed to put on an excellent performance this season and come up with some significant wins. Among those whom they defeated were Aquinas (81-77), St. Andrews (104-54), Cabrini (109-49), and Riverview- the team who had defeated them in the 75-76 championship season- (80-78).

The members of the team were: Seniors: Leo Hamilton, Steve Molnar, Greg Hornby, Pat Girard, Terry Peck, John Cislo, Jerry Cervenak, George Fillipiak, and Jose Valdez. Girls Softball Team strike up exciting season

1977 once again brought to the Gabriel Richard Girls' Softball Team a well-played, good season. Although they suffered two disappointing losses to 2 arch rivals Divine Child and Aquinas, the team managed an impressive 11-6 win loss record.

Outstanding pitching was seen especially from Colleen Darcy and Mary Kay Raubolt who together combined for more strike outs compiled than any other team in the league. Cindy Hickman too deserves special recognition for setting a home run record by slugging 5 round trippers.

Linda Asciutto, catcher, made the All City squad. Chosen for the All League team were Mary Kay Raubolt, outfielder, Cindy Hickman, utility infield and Linda Asciutto. Honorable mention was awarded to Colleen Darcy and Donna Rousch.

1. Colleen Darcy winds up for the pitch. 2. Mary Kay Raubolt, a tower of strength, steps up to the plate. 3. Mary Beaudrie rounds third and heads for home chalking up another home run. 4. Linda Asciutto stalks off to have a word with the pitcher. 5. Lisa Asciutto releases the ball and adds another strike to her record. 6. Cindy Hickman reaches third on a good, powerful line drive. 7. The whole team gathers around the coach for a final word and a team shout of encouragement.

Doug Ochmanek thinks carefully of what he's supposed to do- and then does it!

1-2. Gary Zarb shows an important element of a winning season. A hit! 3-4. Frank Beven demonstrates a winning combination-hitting and running! 5-6. Chuck Reidy does his part for a championship. 7-8. New Freshmen talent like that of Brian Navarre added to the success of the team. 9. Coach Swaney discusses the game plan with one of his team. 10. Scott Sutherby dresses for the game.

1977 Richard Junior Varsity Baseball Team captures league championship with 6-1 record

Hard work. Perseverance. Excellent coaching, skill and luck. With this combination who could falter? Not the JV's! With all games done and the dust cleared our Junior Varsity led the league with a 6-1 record. Under the instruction of Coach Frank Swaney and assisted by student manager Ken Phillips, the team pulled together and fought hard for their title. Lots of new talent from the Freshmen class mixed with the experience of the Sophs spelled success this season! Only one loss to the Cabrini Monarchs in overtime upset the JV Pioneers. These men should be congratulated for their successful team effort. May their winning combination continue in future seasons.

Cheerleaders show off pep and skill at games

Although the turnout for the 1976-77 cheerleading tryouts was few, those who made up the team this year have done a good job spreading spirit.

Throughout the football, basketball, and competition seasons, they took on any thing that came their way.

Under the leadership of Cheryl Nestor (captain), Cindy Muzzin (co-captain), and Denise Gaudette (captain during football season only), they turned out to be a squad never before seen at Gabriel Richard.

1. Although cold, Sue Eisterhold smiles and leads cheers at the Homecoming game. 2. At a pep rally, three of the senior cheerleaders recite a poem dedicated to the senior class. 3. Geri Gervasi and Cindy Muzzin let their spirit shine through. 4. The cheerleaders show their skill at mounting. 5. "Go Richard" yell the cheerleaders in their decorated cars. 6. There they are, doing what they do best- cheering!

Bright and bubbly cheerleaders exhibit lively spirit

"Go Pioneers, Give a yell, If I were a rooster," and on and on continuously throughout the game the J.V. Cheerleaders keep the spirit and enthusiasm alive with their shouts.

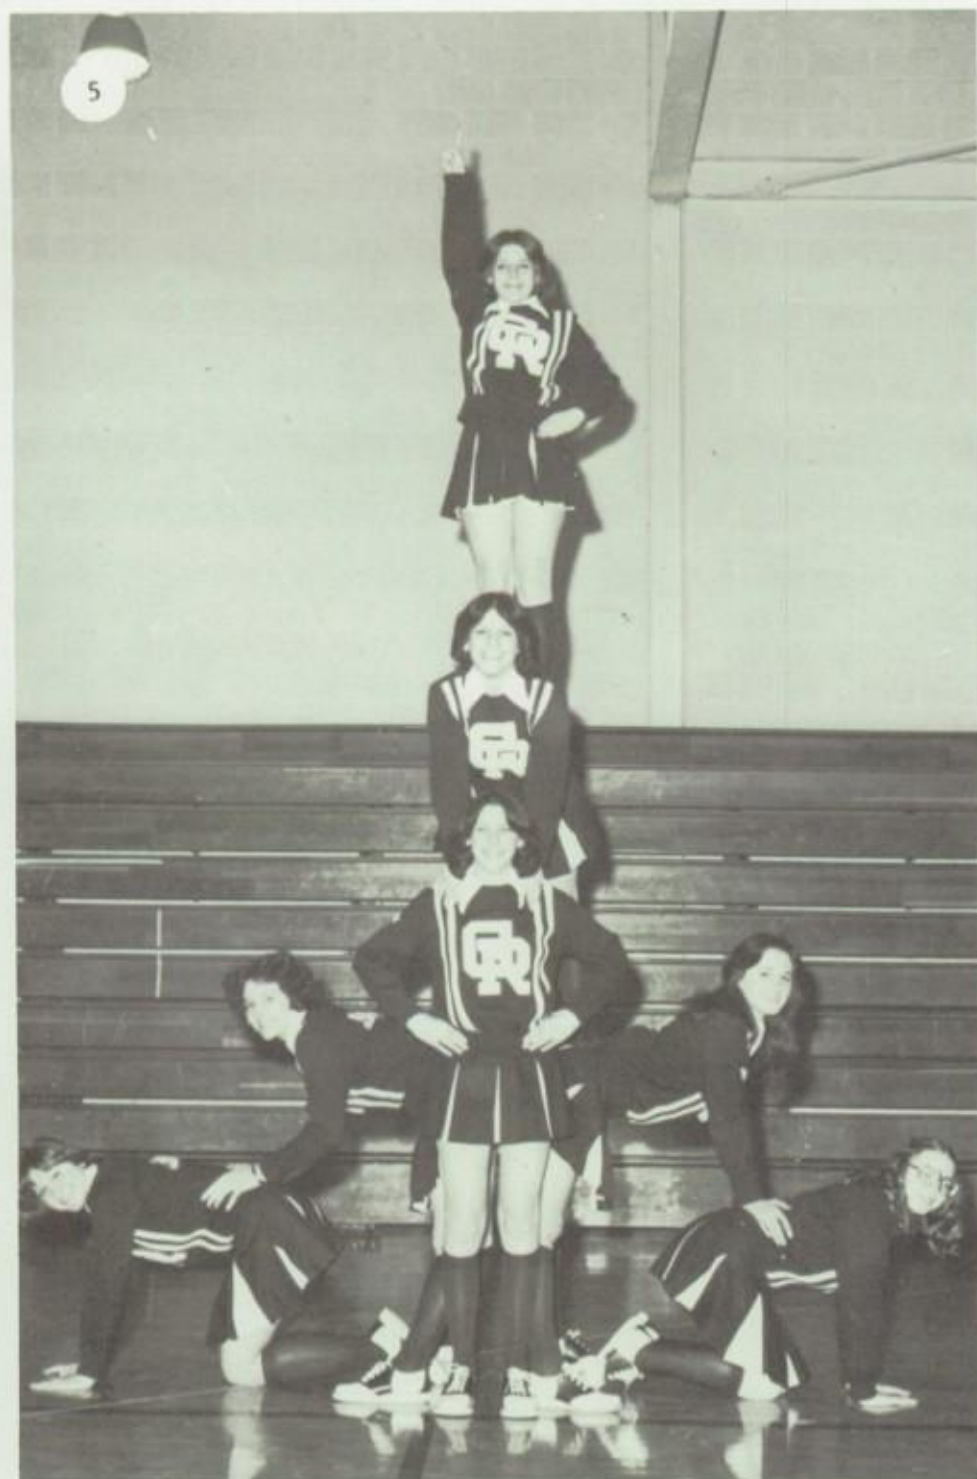

Led by captain Monica Susin, the cheerleaders consist of eight sophomore girls. The other members of the squad are: Kathy Stomber, Michelle Mitchell, Patti Blair, Mary Kane, Julie Laura, Marsha Navarre, and Debbie Muzzin.

The J.V. Cheerleaders cheer for the J.V. Football, Men and Women's basketball teams and also compete in competition near the end of the year. They do well in all areas including putting together pep rallies in school and are to be commended for their performances.

1. J.V. Cheerleaders demonstrate great skill in one of their mounts enjoyed by the crowd. 2. Aha! What have we here? 3. Joe Cosman, Mike Lozon, Steve Walters, Brian Naszradi, Scott Sutherby, and Art La Chappelle show they can do just as good, if not better, than their comrades. 4. Homecoming brings the J.V.'s decorated car to the game. 5. Another great feat is performed with the same spirit and enthusiasm as the rest. 6. Smiling faces and peppy cheers are what it's all about.

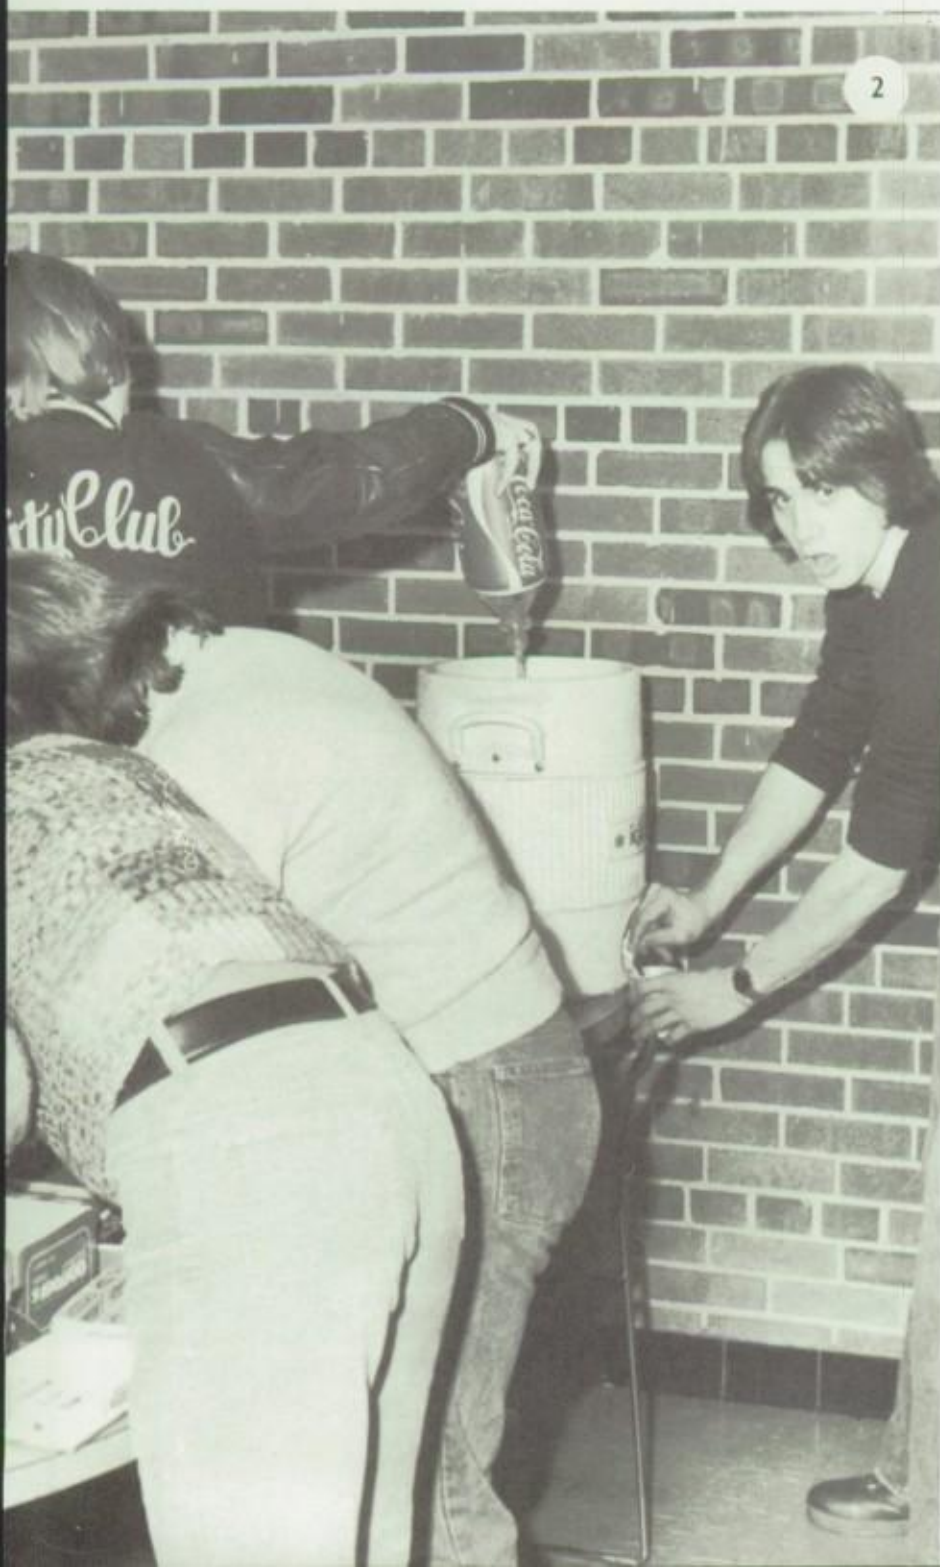

Do you ever wonder who takes care of concessions during a football or basketball game at G.R., the Varsity Clubs that's who. Girls Varsity Club, responsible for the concessions during the football season, is open to any girl who receives a Varsity letter.

The Guys, on the other hand, are responsible for setting up the gym for pep rallies and basketball games and the concessions. Both clubs contain athletes who are hard working and truly dedicated to the GR Varsity program.

Dear Students, Faculty, and Friends,

The 1977 yearbook is finally finished and we would like to apologize for the delay.

Many of the students who made commitments to the 1977 yearbook failed to see them through. Students who were responsible for certain sections of the book never returned to finish.

The only sections that were completed before the deadline were the Junior, Sophomore, Freshman and Advertising sections. Julie Beaudrie, Kim Wilson, Lillian Bourasso, Gina Sisco, Cindy Yurly, Amy Toth, Beth Thomas, and Cheryl Valasco were diligent in finishing their assignments.

The photographers, Linda Manville, John Daly, Adele Costa, and Dan Walters also helped to complete the book. The Activities, Sports, Clubs, Curriculum, and Senior sections were left unfinished.

Margie Elsesser, Jonneal Wisniewski, Debbie Setian, Rachel Morri, Judy Burt, Sue Wanket, Cathy Lauzon, Anne Kupiec, Sharon Wurtsmith, Dave Pugno, and Carol Livernois, and Phyllis Prosniewski-EDITORS- did not finish their assigned sections and therefore the book was delayed.

Without the driving efforts of Sister Pat, and Val Watson, along with Angela Wing, Jamie Muto, Carol Merritt and Barb Rough this book would never have been finished. For the last five months these students tried to put together all the missing pieces and finally finish the 1977 yearbook.

We apologize again for any errors and lack of coverage in some areas. We hope to do better in the future.

Miss Deane Kalicki
Yearbook Advisor
